CALLS HIM LIAR AND GIVES PROOF

Editor DeCamp and Jim Tillman in Hot Clash.

DeCamp Calls Tillman "Liar, Gambler and Drunkard" to His Face, and Submits His Evidence—Tillman Pleads a Poor Memory.

Columbia, S. C., July 23.—(Special.)—Editor E. H. DeCamp, of The Gaffney Ledger, and Colonel Jim Tillman, candidate for governor, furnished the sensation at the Gaffney campaign meeting today.

In a recent editorial The Ledger said Tillman was a "liar, a gambler and a drunkard."

Tillman was reading the article, making sarcastic and vehement remarks, when DeCamp walked up, faced him and said he was the author. There was great confusion, cheers and counter cheers. The ladies fled precipitately.

Finally Tillman said:

"Then you are the author of something for which you should be very much ashamed."

"Colonel Tillman," replied DeCamp coolly, "I can prove you a liar over your own signature." Terrific confusion followed.

Tillman invited the proof and DeCamp went to his office. By the time the crowd had quieted and Tillman resumed his speech DeCamp returned. He read letters from Tillman in reply to bills sent for advertising. In the first Tillman said he had paid in advance, in the last he said he believed he had paid, but inclosed his check.

"And he knew he was lying when he wrote it," commented DeCamp.

Tillman asked to see the letters. DeCamp stood close to him and let him read them.

"If I had but one thing on my mind I could remember these things," said Tillman. "But when I referred to my books I found the error and paid the bill."

"And does it take six letters to make you refer to your books?" queried Editor DeCamp. Tillman didn't answer and amid confusion the meeting adjourned.

HAMLIN OUT FOR GOVERNOR.

He Seeks the Democratic Nomination in Massachusetts.

Boston, July 23.—Hon. Charles S. Hamlin, former assistant secretary of the treasury, announced today that he was a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor of Massachusetts. In a statement announcing his candidacy, Mr. Hamlin says:

"If nominated, I shall take the stump actively throughout the commonwealth in behalf of certain reforms which I believe to be vitally necessary to effective representative government, among which are:

"The referendum as a popular check upon representative government. Home rule and increased legislative powers for cities and towns.

"Prohibition by law under heavy penalty of interference with the legislature or legislators by corporations by means of campaign contributions or appointments to office.

"Rigid municipal control of public utilities with a view to ultimate municipal ownership with power necessary to make such control effective in the public interest.

"Grants by the legislature or municipalities of rights in or along the public ways or streets to be subject to revocation at the will of the grantor. When not revocable, to be for short terms, for adequate consideration and subject to the referendum.

"Concentration of legislative power in the office of governor with seats for heads of departments appointed by the governor in the legislature."

WAR DECLARED ON GAMBLERS.

Clubs at Long Branch To Be Put Out of Business.

Freehold, N. J., July 23.—The Monmouth county grand jury convened here today and received a chaarge concerning gambling from Justice Fort. The justice said he had been compelled to call the jury together to meet a condition of affairs which was shockingly vicious. He said the Long Branch gambling clubs were closed by the court last year. In May of this year licenses had been applied for by caterers, who had been vouched for as not identified with gambling.

These applicants had been granted licenses after they had filed with the clerk of the court a written agreement that no gambling paraphernalia would be allowed on their premises. Justice Fort said that since then information had been brought to him that twelve large gambling establishments, and a number of smaller ones were running openly in Long Branch.

The grand jury reported seven indictments against alleged gamblers and then adjourned until August 7, when the investigation as to the existence of gambling establishments will again be taken up.

ALLEGED CURE FOR LEPROSY

To Be Tested on the Unfortunates in Hawaii.

Washington, July 23.—The secretary of the interior has forwarded to the board of health of Honolulu samples of an alleged cure for leprosy, submitted by a Brooklyn physician in behalf of a fellow practitioner abroad. The board has agreed to use the samples in their experimental research, and the treasury department has authorized the admission of the samples at Honolulu free of duty. The boards of health of San Francisco and New Orleans will also be asked to test the alleged cure.

HARRY TRACY IS ALL RIGHT.

He Is Not Wounded and Has Plenty of Ammunition.

Tacoma, Wash., July 23.—Harry Tracy, the outlaw, appeared at Miller's logging camp, 4 miles from Kansaskat, yesterday and ate dinner. Tracy is not wounded and looks fresh and rested. He is wearing a derby hat, but he had a slouch hat in his pocket. He still has his rifle and two revolvers and has a good supply of ammunition.

WHAT MADE M'LAURIN REFUSE THAT LIFE JOB?

Question Is Agitating Washington and Sensational Developments Are Promised When the True Answer Is Given--Attitude of Tillman.

Washington, July 23.—(Special.)—Senator McLaurin, the junior senator from South Carolina, appears to be having considerable difficulty in reaching a settlement with the republican administration on account of his alleged political deals in the past. There must be an untold story behind the latest announcement that he has declined to accept an appointment as judge of the United States court of claims, tendered him by President Roosevelt.

Only a few weeks ago, when it was said that President Roosevelt had definitely decided to appoint the young South Carolina senator to that position, there was great rejoicing among Senator McLaurin's personal friends. The senator himself seemed to like the idea of having a life position on the bench of a United States court, which ranks second in official importance, at Washington, to the supreme court of the United States. Upon being congratulated by his friends, Senator McLaurin seemed to relish the idea of entering upon a judicial career under such gratifying auspices and under such comfortable conditions.

He made no effort to conceal the fact that he relished the idea of being permanently located in Washington, and had no hesitation in saying that he was very glad of an opportunity to throw off the burdens, cares and the discomfitures of active political life. In view of the frank admissions he made on the subject, those who are supposed to be familiar with his public aims and ambitions, are at a loss to account for positive declination of an office he so much desired.

There is reasonable ground for suspicion that Senator Tillman is either directly or indirectly responsible for the course pursued by his senatorial colleague. There is no estimating the intensity of the feeling between the two men. Their respective records, since they have been associated in the senate, show that, in spite of the statement of Senator Tillman that he bears McLaurin no personal grudge, but simply cannot tolerate or consider him on a political equality with loyal democrats.

It is known that some time ago, when it was semi-officially announced at the white house that the president had decided to appoint McLaurin to the court of claims, Senator Tillman openly vowed that McLaurin could not be confirmed by the senate. Senator Tillman went so far as to suggest to some of Senator McLaurin's friends that the president should be advised on the conditions existing in the senate, with a view to selecting him for some other appointment not requiring the consent of the senate. It was suggested that if the president saw fit to appoint him to a position which was not of a judicial character, there might be no serious opposition to his confirmation.

In discussing the subject Senator Tillman did not mince words in declaring McLaurin's unfitness for a position in the national judiciary. At the same time Senator Tillman displayed no evidence of personal animosity toward McLaurin, but seemed to be actuated entirely by what he believed to be a political duty. Without intending to intimidate or to influence the president in any way, or prevent him from proving his personal or political regard for McLaurin, he indicated that it might be advisable for the president to know what to expect in the event of McLaurin's appointment to a judicial position.

It is possible that this information has been conveyed to the president, and he has, after further consultation with Senator McLaurin, concluded to give him something "equally as good." Possibly membership on the isthmian canal commission. Or perhaps Senator McLaurin does not care to subject himself to the attack upon his political record, which Tillman declares he will make in open senate in the event of McLaurin's appointment to a United States judgeship.

The Tillman-McLaurin feud has expanded beyond the boundaries of the Palmetto State and has now assumed national proportions. The outcome promises more or less sensational developments.

HOLD UP TRAIN AND GET $53,000

Rich Haul Is Made by Robbers on Mexican Central.

Americans Figure in the Hold-Up, and They Seem To Have Had No Trouble in Securing the Booty and Escaping.

El Paso, Tex., July 23.—A daring hold-up took place on the Mexican Central at about 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning just after the train left Bermejillo. At Bermejillo three Americans boarded the train, two secreting themselves on the blind baggage and the other entering the third-class coach. As soon as the train pulled out the two riding on the blind baggage entered the express car, and, covering Messenger Buckmer with their guns, ordered him to throw up his hands.

The messenger offered no resistance. The robbers then went leisurely through the safe, securing $50,000 in currency consigned to the Banco Minero at Chihuahua. They also took what other money packages were in the safe and stood quiet until the train stopped, making a hasty exit and dropped off the train as it was slowing up. Alighting, they disappeared in the darkness of the night.

About the time the robbers entered the express car the conductor of the train became engaged in an altercation with a passenger who refused to pay his fare. Finally the conductor had the train stopped and the passenger ejected. The robbers alighted at the same time. It is now believed the troublesome passenger was a partner of the robbers and his actions a ruse to secure the stoppage of the train.

HANDS HELD OUT TO BIGGERS HE QUITS COURT A FREE MAN

JUST VERDICT RETURNED DECLARES WILLIS BIGGERS

"The verdict of the jury was no surprise to me. I did not see what other verdict could have been rendered under the circumstances. I told the truth on the stand and I told every detail. No one knows that better than the solicitor general. He had witnesses who would have corroborated my statement had he put them on the stand, but he did not do so. He made sufficient investigation of the affair to learn that every word I uttered before the jury was absolutely the truth. Of course, I regret what occurred, but I was forced to do what I did. There was no other alternative. It was his life or mine. I never went to that spot expecting to have to do what I did, but when it was forced on me, what else could I do?

"I certainly feel sorry for Mrs. Simpson, but no one knows better than she that she is better off now. She knows that when I went to Simpson's house to talk the matter over with him her husband bulldozed me. She stood in the back hall that night and prompted him. When I went there I apologized for doing so and explained my mission. But I met with scant courtesy. The charge of murder is a terrible one, and I regret having stood trial under it, but it all came out as I expected it would. I determined to go on the stand and tell all I knew of the affair, and I could not see how a jury could convict me.

"I intend settling down in Atlanta, and shall continue my work with the firm of architects with whom I have been connected for several years."

BANK FOR ALL NATIONS PLANNED BY AMERICANS

Chicago, Ills., July 23.—American financiers are planning an international bank, with headquarters in New York and with branches in Chicago, San Francisco, City of Mexico, Havana, Rio Janeiro and Buenos Ayres.

According to President W. H. Hunt, of the Mexican Trust Company bank, the institution will be known as the First International Bank of North America, and its capital will be $5,000,000.

The nucleus of this enterprise is already in existence under the name of the Mexican Trust Company bank, which has been in operation in the City of Mexico for one year.

HE DECAPITATED A WOMAN BECAUSE SHE BLUFFED HIM

Pittsburg, Pa., July 23.—One of the most mysterious murders in the city's history was committed tonight in a drinking room in the rear of the Traction hotel. The victim is Agnes King, of 139 Crawford street. The murderer, who escaped, is unknown.

The story is that the woman and man had been drinking together since Monday at different saloons, and the carousal ended in a quarrel this evening which was renewed tonight when the couple met on High street. The woman went into the hotel bar and took a seat in the rear room. The man followed her and asked her if she would "keep up the bluff." This question was repeated three times and each time answered in the negative.

Quick as a flash the man pulled a dirk and made a lunge at the woman, cutting her under the ear. A second slash severed the jugular. Then the murderer stepped out a side door and escaped. At midnight he was still at large. The victim died while in the patrol wagon on the way to a hospital. The only witness to the murder was a woman who happened to be in the room when the couple entered. She says the whole affair was enacted so quickly she can give no description of the murderer.

CUPID BAGGING MUCH GAME AMONG THE FOUR HUNDRED

Newport, R. I., July 23.—Society at this resort has this week given itself up almost entirely to weddings. The naval affair yesterday, across the bay at Jamestown, when Miss Marion L. Cutler became the wife of Lieutenant Arthur Chester, will be followed tomorrow by the marriage of Miss Lillie Oelrichs to Peter Martin, of San Francisco, while on Sunday will come the wedding of Miss Sarah Van Alen, the youngest daughter of James J. Van Alen, and granddaughter of Mrs. William Astor, to Robert J. Collier, son of Peter F. Collier, of New York.

For the Oelrichs-Martin wedding the most elaborate preparations have been made both at the church where the ceremony will take place and at the home of the bride's father, Charles M. Oelrichs. Not only will the entire summer colony be present, but the city tonight is well filled with guests from many other cities of the country.

The Van Alen-Collier wedding will be solemnized at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Wakehurst, the summer home of the bride's father. This will be followed by high nuptial mass at St. Mary church. Father Meenan, of that church, will officiate, assisted by Bishop Byrne, of Nashville, Tenn.

LIPTON MAKES HIS ANSWER.

Irish Knight Says That Barrie Has Been Paid.

New York, July 23.—Through his attorneys Sir Thomas Lipton today filed his answer to the claim of David Barrie against him with the clerk of the United States district court. In effect the answer says that whatever services have been rendered to Sir Thomas by Barrie have been paid for and gives a history of the relations between Sir Thomas and Barrie. The answer asks that the suit be dismissed.

NORTH DAKOTA REPUBLICANS

Refuse To Resubmit Prohibition. White Heads Ticket.

Fargo, N. Dak., July 23.—An unsuccessful effort of Editor Streetor, of Emmons county, to amend the report of the committee on resolutions to include a plank demanding the question of prohibition be resubmitted to the voters was about the only feature of today's state republican convention.

The following ticket was nominated:

For congress—T. F. Marshall, Dickey; B. F. Spalding, Cass.

For governor—Frank White, Barnes.

For lieutenant goverhor—D. Bartlett, Griggs.

For judge supreme court—John M. Cochrane, Grand Forks.

For secretary of state—E. F. Porter, Foster.

For auditor—D. M. Holmes, Pembina.

For attorney general—C. W. Frick, Nelson.

For treasurer—D. McMillan, Cavalier.

MINE HORROR BEING PROBED.

Coroner Is Investigating the Explosion at Johnstown.

Johnstown, Pa., July 23.—Coroner E. T. Miller today began the inquest in the disaster in the Cambria Steel Company's rolling mill mine on July 10, by which 112 men lost their lives. When the inquest adjourned for the day twelve witnesses had been examined without any unusual incident having developed. So far as the inquest has proceeded the following facts have been established:

All the men working in dangerous sections were provided with safety lamps and instructed in their use.

On the night before the explosion at least one safety lamp was opened to enable the miners to fire a blast.

The men were ordered to test for gas before firing blasts.

Miners left matches outside when going into entries known to contain gas. No smoking was allowed there.

The air in the Klondike was good at all times and the majority of the witnesses said they had not discovered gas in any of the workings.

Three blasts were fired during the night before the explosion.

JUST VERDICT RETURNED DECLARES WILLIS BIGGERS

Verdict of Acquittal Heard Yesterday Afternoon Amid Applause.

JURY ASKED A RECHARGE ON QUESTION OF DEFENSE

In Hall of Court House Biggers Held an Informal Reception, Receiving Congratulations from Many Friends — Jury Out Only 20 Hours.

Willis R. Biggers is a free man.

The young architect who was tried for his life before Judge Foster in the criminal division of the Fulton superior court this week, charged with the murder of Mail Carrier William Simpson, was declared not guilty by the jury yesterday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock.

The jury was out twenty hours and forty-five minutes and was charged twice by the court. The first charge was delivered at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening and the jury was recharged at 3:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the members having requested the court to give them again that part of the charge relative to self-defense. Judge Foster repeated his entire charge of the previous day and the jury was out only ten minutes before rendering a verdict.

As soon as the verdict was read Biggers was surrounded by a crowd of friends, who showed their pleasure by shaking his hands and patting him on the back. He had a smile and pleasant word for every one. After leaving the court room he held a levee in the hall, where hundreds grasped his hands, spoke to him or else were content to stand by and witness the proceedings.

Tears Flow in Plenty.

The young man's wife, mother, mother in law and other members of the immediate family were all in tears and apparently were beside themselves with joy over the acquittal. He remained at the court house for probably an hour after the verdict was rendered, and then, after visiting the jail for a short while, went home, where a family reunion was held.

Now that Biggers, who was the principal in the case, has been acquitted, it is expected that the case against H. I. Sterne, the young man's brother in law, who was indicted as an accessory with him, will be nol prossed this morning. Attorney Arnold will ask that this action be taken. Sterne, who is a consumptive, is thought to be in a precarious condition.

Biggers, in his statement to the jury last Monday, pleaded self-defense. He said that Simpson fired the first shot and that he killed the mail carrier in order to save his own life. He asserted that Simpson had circulated damaging reports concerning several female members of the Biggers family and that he had gone to meet the man to request him to cease making any more such statements. He said the mail carrier had grossly insulted his wife and his mother in law and that when he called on him on several occasions to remonstrate with him Simpson met him at the door with a pistol and challenged him to do anything.

The trial of the case attracted a great amount of interest, the court room being crowded daily. It is understood that the jury stood seven for acquittal and five

BRYAN SOUNDS BLAST TONIGHT

Nebraskan Will Outline Position at New England Democratic Dinner.

SHEPARD AND CARMACK ON LIST OF SPEAKERS

Banquet Will Be Held on the Beach, and the Speaking Will Take Place in a Mammoth Tent. Bryan Is in New Haven.

Boston, July 23.—Everything is in readiness for the great banquet of the New England Democratic League, which is to be held at Natasket Beach tomorrow, and at which at least four men of national reputation are to give their views on questions of political importance.

The presiding officers will be Mayor Patrick A. Collins, of Boston, a former congressman, and consul general to London under President Cleveland. The speakers will be William J. Bryan, of Nebraska; Edward M. Shepard, of New York, and Senator E. W. Carmack, of Tennessee.

Dinner will be served at the Rockland house at noon. About three hundred persons have secured tickets to the dinner. After dinner the party will adjourn to a mammoth tent, where the speaking will take place.

Bryan in New Haven.

New Haven, Conn., July 23.—William J. Bryan stopped over in this city tonight on his way to Boston, and was the guest of Alexander Troup for several hours. After a trip about the city with Mr. Troup, in which Yale university and other points of interest were visited, a stop was made to the Troup residence. Well-known members of the democratic party from this city, Hartford, Bridgeport, New London, Meriden and Waterbury were present.

THIRTY YAQUI INDIANS SHOT.

They Were Put To Death by the Mexican Troops.

Tucson, Ariz., July 23.—S. N. Jack, a merchant of Fort Worth, Tex., returning from the Yaqui river country, reports having seen thirty Yaqui Indians lined up and shot Saturday at a small town called Torrin, in Sonora. The Indians had been captured in the mountains the day before. A number of them were mere boys.

SCORPION HARD ON THE ROCKS.

It Is Feared the Gun Boat May Be Badly Injured.

Newport, R. I., July 23.—The gunboat Scorpion went aground in the upper harbor today. The Scorpion is hard on the Blue Rocks. It is feared that her plating may be torn, for there are jagged rocks where she struck.

The Scorpion has been with the fleet off Block island and was coming here to anchor. Her engines failed to reverse at an order and the Scorpion made straight for the rocks, where she brought up hard.

FAILED TO TAKE THE ISLAND.

Alabama, Kearsarge and Marines Abandon the Attempt.

Block Island, R. I., July 23.—The proposed attempt by the battle ships Alabama and Kearsarge, reinforced by marines, to capture the northwest portion of this island near the entrance to the harbor was abandoned today, presumably because of the unfavorable weather conditions. This portion of the maneuvers will probably be carried out later.

The 200 marines who landed yesterday for the defense of the island folded their tents and went aboard the war ships, which lay at anchor a mile off shore. The ships soon put to sea.

JERSEY LILY GOES; METHODISTS COME

Her London Theater Is Secured for Religious Purposes.

GREAT HALL TO BE BUILT

Structure To Be Called "Central Headquarters of Universal Methodism"—Building Will Face Westminster Abbey—Big Price Paid.

London, July 23.—Robert William Perks, M. P., treasurer of the Methodist million guineas fund, announced today that the Methodists had secured the Royal Aquarium theater property, facing Westminster abbey, on which they would build a great hall, which is to be called the "central headquarters of universal Methodism."

The price paid was £330,000. The ground comprises 2½ acres, and on it also stands Mrs. Langtry's Imperial theater.

It is probable that some arrangement will be made by which the Imperial theater will remain where it is, although it may be transformed into an annex of the church house, building of which it is expected to commence early in 1903.

Since it was opened in 1876 the Aquarium has been a famous place of amusement for Londoners.

FOUGHT THEM TO THE LAST.

Eyewitness Tells of the Death of De Mores.

Tunis, July 23.—The trial at Susa, near here, of the murderers of the Marquis de Mores, who was killed near Gabez, in June, 1896, was resumed today, and several witnesses who had been cited by the government were heard. Their testimony generally went to prove that the murder was committed by Toregs, who hate the French.

The deposition of an Arab, who died a year ago, was read. According to this deposition, when the Touregs heard that the Marquis de Mores was coming they held a meeting and discussed whether they should help the marquis, repel him or kill him, and it was unanimously decided that he should be killed. The Marquis de Mores, though severely wounded, held the Arabs at bay for several hours with his revolver and was finally killed by an attack from the rear.

Cross-questioning of one of the witnesses, Mahomed Ben Ali, brought out the statement that El Kheir, one of the men on tral for the murder, had received letters from a marabout of Guemar, saying that de Mores might be killed with impunity, because he was traveling without authorization.

The judge thought this statement suspicious, as the witness had made no mention of the matter previously.

CORONATION FETES AT DIEHI.

Sketch Shows That They Will Be of Utmost Magnificence.

London, July 23.—The India office has issued a sketch of the programme of the coronation fetes to be held at Dalhi, India, which shows that, although the festivities will not be graced, as was expected, by the presence of the prince and princess of Wales, they will be of the utmost magnificence, extending from December 29 to January 10. On December 29 the viceroy of India, Lord Curzon of Keddleston, with the ruling chiefs, will make a state entry into Delhi, mounted on elephants, with a procession 6 miles long, to the camp. The next day the viceroy will open the arts exhibition, and on January 1 a coronation durbar will be held. A parade of forty thousand troops will take place January 2, and the following days will be devoted to reviews, religious services and illuminations, receptions, banquets, etc., the viceroy departing January 10.

CALMLY WATCH CHILDREN DIE

Tots Had Diphtheria, but Parents Refused To Call Physicians.

PARENTS PUT THEIR TRUST "IN THE CHURCH OF GOD"

They Had Their Children Anointed by an Elder, but the Anointing Did Not Save the Little Ones from the Embrace of Death.

Spokane, Wash., July 23.—The coroner's jury that investigated the death of the small children of Mr. and Mrs. George Graham, of this city, reported that death was caused by diphtheria, and that the parents are guilty of criminal neglect for failing to employ or accept skilled medical assistance. The jury recommended that a state law covering such cases and exacting a penalty be enacted.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham are members of a society known as the "Church of God," and do not believe in medicine, though surgery is permitted. When their children became sick they were anointed by an elder of the church. Later a doctor was called, and was allowed to lance the children's throats, but not to give them medicine. Three died and one recovered. Whether the parents will be prosecuted has not been determined.

DON'T AGREE WITH IRELAND.

Denver Catholic Clergy Pass Resolutions Regarding Philippines.

Denver, Colo., July 23.—Resolutions have been unanimously adopted by the Catholic clergy of the Denver diocese, assembled in annual retreat, which take views of the school and friar questions of the Philippines differing from those recently expressed by Archbishop Ireland. The resolutions commend the act establishing a department of public instruction in the Philippines in so far as religious instruction is permitted at certain times, but declare that the denominational system in vogue in England should have been established. They request the government to guard against attempts at proselyting by teachers and protest against the forcible removal of the friars as a violation of the constitution.

THEY WILL FIGHT REDUCTION

Tin-Plate Workers Refuse To Accept Company's Proposition.

Elwood, Ind., July 23.—Great pressure was today, without the desired result, brought to bear to have the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers accept the 25 per cent reduction in wages in order that the American Tin Plate Company may secure an order of 1,500,000 boxes of tin from the Standard Oil Company. President Shaffer and Secretary Williams, who arrived in this city this morning, advised the men to rescind their former action, but without avail. There is now no probability of the men accepting the company's proposition.

In an interview President Shaffer said:

"It was for the best interest of both employer and employee to accept the reduction, and thereby insure the men steady work, while the employer would get business that otherwise would go to foreign manufacturers.

"A refusal of the men will not precipitate a strike, but it will probably result in a number of eastern mills being closed and perhaps a few of the western mills being idle for several weeks in the year. Should the men accept the reduction it would mean the starting of a number of mills that are now idle and would give employment to a greater number of men."

Free Delivery Service.

Washington, July 23.—The postoffice department has established free delivery service, effective September 1, at Sumter, S. C., and Hampton, Va.

JURY ACQUITS WILLIS BIGGERS

Verdict Reached Yesterday Afternoon Amid Applause.

JURY REQUESTS TO BE RECHARGED BY COURT

In the Hall of Court House Biggers Held an Informal Reception, Accepting the Congratulations of His Friends and Relatives.

for conviction Tuesday evening and that yesterday morning it had narrowed down to eleven for acquittal and one for conviction. This one was not quite clear about the law on the subject of self-defense, but when the judge delivered his charge again this juror announced that he considered the defendant not guilty of murder.

Jury Is Recharged.

Just as the court house clock struck 2 Judge Foster went on the bench and announced court open for the day. He stated to the solicitor general and counsel for Biggers that the jury had sent word that no verdict had been reached, and that the members were then engaged in balloting. Other cases were considered in the meantime, and then, at 2:10 o'clock, the court requested that the jury be brought into the box. When the twelve men had filed in and were seated Judge Foster asked if a verdict had been reached.

Foreman P. W. Ryan replied in the negative and stated that it was the wish of the jury to be recharged on the question of self-defense. The court explained that he would do as requested in a few moments, and the jury was sent back to the jury room, where it remained until 3 o'clock, when Judge Foster read his complete charge of the day before. The delivery of the charge consumed about thirty-five minutes.

When the jury had again returned to the jury room a case of attempted criminal assault was taken up, and the court room was cleared of all ladies. Exactly ten minutes after the jury had filed out of the box a loud rap was heard at the door leading to the jury room, and the bailiff in charge announced that a verdict had been reached. Young Biggers, who was in the prisoners' room at the time, was sent for and he and the members of the jury came into the court room about the same moment.

The face of the defendant appeared unusually white and the lines about his mouth were hard and distinct. He did not seem nervous in the least. Attorney Reuben Arnold, Jr., leading counsel for the defense, waived the call of the jury and Deputy Clerk Thomas Miller received the verdict from the foreman. At the time there was another jury in the box and the members of the Biggers jury had to file in behind the last row of jurors' chairs. Perfect quiet prevailed in the room. When it was announced that a verdict had been reached there was a general craning of necks to get a view of the young man and what was likely to transpire.

Biggers Is Congratulated.

When the verdict "not guilty" was read there was just the least semblance of applause that came from the spectators, and the court bailiff was soon rapping for order. Friends of the young man were quick to leave the room to notify his relatives of the outcome of the case, and some of these hurried in to see him. Hands were stretched out to him from every side, while words of congratulation came from hundreds who pressed about him. He replied pleasantly and gratefully to these friends.

Without delay he left the court room, and outside in the hall he held an informal reception. His mother, tears of joy streaming down her cheeks, was one of the first of his relatives to reach his side. She threw her arms about her son's neck and patted him lovingly on the back. Mrs. Biggers, wife of the young man, also cried out her happiness on his shoulder. It was an affecting scene—this reunion of a family over which had hung the uncertain fate that the young man had faced for twenty hours. Young Biggers insisted upon shaking hands with Attorneys Reuben Arnold and R. B. Blackburn, who represented him during the trial, the moment he caught sight of them in the hall, and thanked them again and again for their efforts in his behalf.

Finally Biggers sent his wife and the other female members of the family home, while he and his brother, Dr. Terry Biggers, went to the Tower to see Sterne, Biggers' brother in law, who had been jointly indicted with the young man. The greeting was a warm one. Sterne is now in the last stages of consumption, it is said, and he spends most of his time reclining on a cot. Biggers also sought out the jail attendants and thanked them for their many kindnesses to him during his confinement at the jail.

Returning from the Tower, Biggers and his brother met Attorney Arnold and they all walked off up the street together.

BRAVE DEATH FOR COMRADES

Heroism of the Troops in Philippines in Fighting the Cholera.

DETAILED AS NURSES THEY GO TREMORLESS

Although They Know That They Are Going To Almost Certain Death. Letters Received by War Department Pay Tribute to the Troops.

Washington, July 23.—The epidemic of cholera has been particularly hard upon the medical corps of the army stationed on the Philippine islands, and the casualty lists received here show that the surgeons and the hospital corps have borne their share of the suffering.

Surgeon General Forwood has received a copy of one of the orders, in which these casualties are announced as follows:

"The death of Private Joseph G. M. Elseman, hospital corps, U. S. A., is announced. Private Elseman was detailed to face death as a cholera nurse for one of our comrades and died from the disease caught from his charges—an example of devotion to duty to be held up for all men to emulate. Private Leonard B. Stevenson, hospital corps, U. S. A., was detailed to nurse both of our comrades, well knowing that his predecessor was cut down while performing the same duty. Without a murmur he responded and remained till the sod covered his plague-stricken charges and now he returns to his routine duties.

"The men of this command, who have faced amid the whistle of bullets and the excitement of a fight can readily appreciate the courage required to daily await his approach in the form of one of the most dreaded diseases known to the world today, and the commanding officer makes this an opportunity to publicly acknowledge that 'duty well done,' the highest aim of a soldier, is a goal Private Stevenson has reached.

"This order will be published at parade on Tuesday, the 27th instant, and at general inspection of the hospital corps on the 31st instant.

"By order of Captain O'Neal.

"DOUGLAS DONALD,
"Second Lieutenant Twenty-first Infantry, Adjutant."

THOUSANDS DIE FOR THE FLAG

Figures Regarding the Blood Cost of War in the Philippines.

LOSSES BY THE AMERICANS NEARLY FIVE THOUSAND MEN

About 2,500 Engagements with the Enemy More or Less Serious. In No Case Did the Americans Surrender or Retreat.

Washington, July 23.—Major James Parker, of the adjutant general's office, has compiled some interesting statistics regarding the insurrection in the Philippines. There were 2,561 engagements with the enemy, more or less serious, between February 4, 1899, the date of the battle o Manila, and April 30, 1902, which is fixed as the virtual downfall of the insurrection. The larger proportion of these fights were attacks from ambush on the American troops or skirmishes in which only small detachments took part.

"In almost no cases in these engagements," says Major Parker, "did American troops surrender or have to retreat or have to leave their dead and wounded in the possession of the enemy, notwithstanding that in many cases the percentage of loss was high."

The number of troops that have been transported to the Philippines and have arrived there up to July 16 last was 4,135 officers and 123,803 men. The average strength, taken from monthly returns, for the period of the insurrection, was approximately 40,000.

Major Parker summarizes the casualties of the American army as follows: Killed or died of wounds, 69 officers and 938 enlisted men; deaths from disease, 47 officers and 2,535 enlisted men; deaths from accidents, 6 officers and 125 enlisted men; drowned, 6 officers and 257 enlisted men; suicide, 10 officers and 72 enlisted men; murdered, 1 officer and 91 enlisted men. Total deaths, 139 officers and 4,016 enlisted men. Wounded, 190 officers and 2,707 enlisted men, a total of 2,897; killed and wounded and deaths other than by disease, 282 officers and 4,188 enlisted men. Total, 4,470.

A large proportion of the deaths by drowning occurred in action or in active operations against the enemy.

Major Parker makes the percentage of killed and wounded to the strength of the army 9.7.

RALLYING TO THE STRIKERS.

Large Sums of Money Are Being Contributed.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23.—Secretary Wilson, of the United Mine Workers, today received a check for $50,000 for the strike fund from the Illinois organization. This was forwarded by him immediately to the anthracite fields. The Illinois miners have within four weeks given the national organization $100,000 for strike funds and still have nearly a half million in reserve.

This donation, it is said, is the largest ever offered for a strike. Wilson has received notice from individuals of checks for as much as $1,000 that are now on their way to headquarters, indicating that the appeal to the public for funds has been effective.

It is believed that the miners will not attempt to keep bituminous coal out of the anthracite markets except as a last resort.

LATIMER FEARED HIS WIFE WAS UNFAITHFUL TO HIM

New York, July 23.—Harry J. Parker, an insurance adjuster, who worked also as a private defective, was the first witness today in the coroner's investigation of the shooting of Albert C. Latimer in his home in Brooklyn on the morning of July 2.

Parker testified that on May 1, this year, Latimer visited him and employed him.

"Why did Albert C. Latimer visit you?" asked District Attorney Clarke.

"He told me he wanted to get evidence against his wife for unfaithfulness with a man whose name was given by Mr. Latimer as Tuthill," Parker replied.

"On May 2 of this year I went with Mr. Latimer to Tuthill's residence on Vanderbilt avenue and there I was told by Mr. Latimer that it was Tuthill's house and I was to keep a watch on it and report Tuthill's movements to him. On May 4 I saw Tuthill go to Latimer's house at 5:30 or 6 o'clock. Latimer was accustomed to reach home as late as 6:30 or 7 o'clock."

Parker testified that on one occasion Tuthill went to see Mrs. Latimer at her home and remained there until the middle of the afternoon.

Before Parker left the stand District Attorney Clarke made the following statement:

"I have had no conversation with this witness, but I understand that he can testify that the deceased told him that in case of his death he would know who killed him, mentioning the names of two persons. Now, this is hearsay and not admissible under the laws of evidence. It seems to me that if this declaration is to be introduced now it would be illegal, censurable and cruel; as far as I am concerned I don't purpose asking this man to make that declaration."

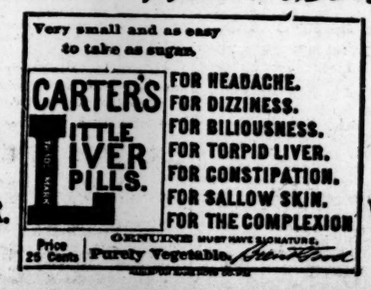

Maggie Fitzgerald, a servant employed in a house near Latimer's, said that after the shooting she saw a man she thought was Latimer go to a window and call for help. This witness also testified that about the time the police arrived she saw a man on the roof of the Latimer house.

The case was then given to the jury, which brought in a verdict declaring that Latimer was killed by a pistol shot wound. No accusation against any one was made by the jury.

SEVENTH GEORGIA AT OLD CAPITAL OF CONFEDERACY

Richmond, Va., July 23.—(Special.)—The members of the Seventh Georgia regiment, who have been visiting Virginia battle fields on which they figured during the war, spent tonight in the former capital of the confederacy. They arrived this afternoon from Fredericksburg, and were guests of Lee camp tonight at a delightful reception, in which Pickett camp and the Daughters of the Confederacy participated. The visiting party, including ladies, numbers about 150. The evening was one of song and story. Polk Miller led the singing and Governor Montague made the principal speech. There were besides, several addresses of welcome and Dr. W. W. Norton, surgeon of the Seventh Georgia; Dr. Wilson, a surgeon of the Seventh; Hon. H. B. Goodwin, S. H. Nash and Colonel Carmichael spoke on behalf of the Georgians. Refreshments were served, and the reunion lasted late into the night. The Seventh will visit the "Crater," near Pittsburg, tomorrow, and then leave for home.

HE'LL NOT COAX FROM THE STUMP

Roosevelt Denies That He's To Make a Campaign.

He Will Swing Around the Circle Simply Because People Have Invited Him—He Discusses the Philippine Situation with Schurman.

Oyster Bay, July 23.—President Roosevelt entertained at luncheon today President Jacob G. Schurmann, of Cornell university; President N. M. Butler, of Columbia university, and Captain F. N. Goddard, of New York, who long has been identified with the civic reform in New York, and George Edward Graham, of Albany.

During the afternoon the president and Professor Schurmann had a talk about the Philippine situation, going over the subject with some care. President Schurmann, on August 4, is to deliver an address at Chautauqua, in which he will deal pretty fully with the Philippine situation, as he views it. It is understood that he regards it as likely that the subject will resolve itself into a condition entirely satisfactory to the Filipinos in a comparatively brief time, as the Philippine government law recently enacted by congress will enable the natives to participate in their home affairs, and in a short time enjoy practically home rule, so far at least as their municipal governments are concerned. It is not improbable that President Schurmann may elaborate this point in his Chautauqua speech.

President Roosevelt also received T. B. M. Addis, secretary and general agent of the City Municipal Association of Philadelphia, who called to enter a complaint on behalf of the association against William McCoach, collector of internal revenues, first district of Pennsylvania, who, it was stated, also holds city office as a member of the city council. No action upon the case was taken.

Captain C. J. McConnell, chief engineer, United States navy, retired, who was fleet engineer on the flagship New York during the Spanish-American war, talked briefly with the president today on technical questions relating to the proposed isthmian canal.

President Roosevelt is displeased somewhat by a misinterpretation of his motives in accepting invitations to meet and speak to the people of several sections of the country this fall. It has been announced in some places that Mr. Roosevelt is to make a campaign, particularly in New York, with the idea of offsetting any aggressive opposition to his political views. It can be said that he has no such intention. Such invitations to speak as he has accepted have come from people representing all shades of political opinion.

William H. Moody, secretary of the navy, is expected to arrive at Sagamore hill on Friday.

Senator Platt, of New York, will visit the president probably on August 30.

FRANCE IN FERMENT OVER RELIGIOUS LAW

Fresh Disturbances in Paris and Other Cities--Police Charge the Rioters, Arresting Hundreds and Injuring Others.

Paris, July 23.—There were fresh disturbances today as a sequel to yesterday's clerical outbreaks as protest against the government's enforcement of the law against unauthorized congregations. It now appears that 300 persons were arrested and numerous prosecutions are pending, though the majority of the prisoners were released.

Fresh meetings to protest in favor of the religious orders were held today, while the radical and socialist papers urged the republicans to meet at the Pantheon as a counter demonstration.

Several hundred persons, chiefly women and children, created a demonstration today in front of a church in the Ternes quarter while some expelled sisters were departing. The police interfered and several of the crowd struck them with sticks. Among those arrested were Deputies Pagliesi and Conti. They were subsequently released.

A serious disturbance occurred at 10:30 o'clock this evening on the terrace at the Cafe de Musee de Cluny. The police cleared the cafe. Several persons were injured and twenty-five arrests were made.

Some disorderly meetings of Catholics were held during the course of the evening, resulting in scuffles and the making of arrests.

The agitation provoked by the order of Prime Minister Combes to close the congregationist schools recalls to some extent the scenes enacted when M. Ferry, then premier, expelled the Jesuits in 1880. Demonstrations in favor of the nuns and the teaching friars are taking place in Paris, and many places in the provinces where the prefects presented themselves at the schools and ordered that the institutions be closed. Up to the present, however, no serious incidents have been recorded.

The nationalists have joined the clericals in engineering the agitation, and their leaders are in the forefront of the effervescence in Paris.

Considerable sympathy has been worked up on behalf of the nuns and their schools have been made the particular objects of demonstration. The clericals called upon their sympathizers to meet outside of the school conducted by the sisters of St. Vincent de Paul, in the northeast quarter of Paris, which was closed this afternoon, and a considerable crowd gathered there, compelling a large body of police and mounted municipal guards to form a cordon in the streets leading to the school. A few trifling collisions occurred between the clerical and counter demonstrators, who replied to the clericals' cries of "Long live the good sisters" and "Vive la liberte," with "Down with the priests" and "Long live the republic."

A nationalist member of the chamber of deputies was arrested while trying to force his way through the police cordon, but was subsequently released.

Anti-clerical meetings in the Latin quarter this evening led to some effervescence, but no noteworthy disorders.

A few students, followed by a crowd composed of the rougher element, marched up and down the Boulevard St. Michel till a late hour, chanting anti-clerical refrains and shouting: "Down with the priests and the pope!" but these fled at the sight of the mounted guards and patrols.

The greatest excitement in the provinces is displayed in the clerical stronghold of Brittany, where the peasants have gathered in front of the nuns' schools in several places and declare they will not allow the nuns to be expelled. At Landerneau a crowd of farmers and women have mounted guard before the school of the White Sisters awaiting the arrival of the police. The inhabitants of the village of Ploudaniel, who also are guarding the sisters' school, seized a lay schoolmaster and thrashed him with nettles.

At La Bresse, in the department of Vosges, the commissary of police, accompanied by gendarmes, thrice tried to approach the congregationist school in order to effect its closure, but was obliged to abandon the attempt because of the threatening attitude of the population.

At St. Ambroix, near Nimes, the demonstrators detached the horses from the carriages which were conveying the sisters to the railway station and dragged the vehicles, with their occupants, back to the convent, shouting "Down with the tyrants." The gendarmes were powerless to prevent the demonstrators from carrying out their plans, and reinforcements had to be summoned. Against this and similar incidents, however, must be set off the addresses in support of the government voted by many municipal councils.

While considerable sympathy is felt with the sisters personally, Prime Minister Combes undoubtedly feels that he is supported by the mass of the country, and is not likely to recede from the position he has taken. The trouble is caused mainly by the ambiguity of the wording of the law of associations, which has led branches of the congregations, such as the schools now closed, to suppose that their position was legalized by the request for authorization made by headquarters. This was even the interpretation of the matter accepted by M. Waldeck-Rousseau, the former premier, but Prime Minister Combes takes a contrary view.

The Temps takes M. Combes severely to task. The establishments now closed, says The Temps, appear to have been drawn into a trap, and the paper points out that there are not enough lay schools to receive all the children turned into the streets, and that, primary instruction being obligatory, the government should have provided accommodation in the official schools. Twenty thousand children in Paris alone will need schools. The Temps asks what the government intends to do, and adds:

"If it allows the schools to ask for authorization, and to reopen in the autumn, it was not worth while to take the trouble to close them with such great noise."

KAISER WARNED TO STAY AT HOME

Could Be Dangerous for Him To Visit Posen.

POLES IN HOSTILE MOOD

It Is Feared That Some Fanatic Might Attack the Emperor. Racial Feeling in the Province Is at White Heat.

Berlin, July 23.—Court Chamberlain Von Morawski, a Polish landed magnate, has appealed to Emperor William not to visit Posen during the army maneuvers to be held in September, as his majesty had planned to do. The chamberlain fears that some Polish fanatic might attempt to harm the emperor.

Racial feeling is described as at fever heat, and several Berlin journals take the view that it would be unwise for the emperor to expose himself unnecessarily. The Post (conservative) says it is informed that it would greatly relieve those responsible for his majesty's safety to learn that he had given up the trip. Prominent Germans residing in Posen are glad that the Polish officials and nobility have determined not to attend the festivities, as thereby the chances of unpleasant incidents arising are lessened.

It is scarcely likely that Emperor William will act upon Chamberlain Von Morawski's appeal, because his majesty never permits himself to change his plans on account of the timidity of his advisers. He goes anywhere he thinks duty calls him; and, besides, it is his purpose to declare the government's Polish policy while in Polish territory, and his giving up of personal supervision of the maneuvers would be unprecedented.

The Polish question is regarded as the most pregnant in the government's domestic policy. While no observer believes the Polish agitation can really amount to much ultimately, it is embarrassing the relations with Austria and Russia. The Poles in Galicia enjoy local self-government and press privileges, which are not in vogue in Prussian Poland, and continual contrasts are made in the Austrian press between the conditions existing in Galicia and in the province of Posen that annoy this government and tend to weaken the triple alliance.

Indications are not wanting that Russia is disposed to utilize the Polish passion by giving greater freedom to the Russian Poles, thus creating along the Russian frontier a Prussian population in sympathy with Russia. Count Von Buelow, the German imperial chancellor, is well aware of the disagreeable features of the Polish agitation, and it is quite likely he will devise measures to quiet the extreme violence of the Polish feeling.

NO TROUBLE AT FUNERAL.

REMAINS OF JAMES COCKRELL BURIED NEAR JACKSON, KY.

It Is Feared That Desperate Warfare Will Be Precipitated by Feud. Assassins Are Known.

Lexington, Ky., July 23.—The body of James Cockrell, who was assassinated Monday at Jackson, Ky., was laid to rest at 9 o'clock this morning in the Cockrell family burying ground, 3 miles below Jackson. An immense concourse attended the body to its final resting place. The funeral was in charge of the Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias, of which orders he was a member. No trouble was reported today.

Reports from Jackson state that Cockrell's friends are quietly preparing for the worst, and it is confidently believed that the most desperate warfare ever known in eastern Kentucky will be precipitated. Many prominent men have left Jackson.

Clinton Wilder, a railroader, who made the statement that the town ought to be placed under martial law, was quietly informed that he had better leave. He arrived here last night and says he is afraid to return. Those who know best the situation in Jackson say the most dangerous crisis in the entire feud is at hand.

Assassins Are Known.

Lexington, Ky., July 23.—A member of the Crockrell faction arrived here today from Jackson, and after asking that his name be withheld, because its publication would mean his assassination, said that the assassins of James Cockrell, who was shot there on Monday, are known. He claims that four men were in the court room when the shots were fired, and that two fired from different windows simultaneously. These men were aided to escape during the night and their whereabouts are now unknown. He claims that the Cockrell faction will not undertake any assassinations, but will be inclined to wait until the law is able to bring the murderers to justice.

D. B. HILL GIVES ADVICE.

He Writes a Letter to Democrats of Mississippi.

Allison Wells, Miss., July 23.—Fully three thousand people attended the political meeting here today. Hon. William S. McAlister, of Canton, opened the exercises by announcing the programme and reading a letter from ex-Senator David B. Hill, of New York, expressing regret at his inability to attend, and dealing at length with national issues.

He tells the Mississippi democrats that the party of Jefferson, Jackson and Tilden does not need to be reorganized, but to unite upon the vital issues upon which they are agreed, and victory will crown their efforts in the next national contest.

Chairman McAlister then introduced Hon. A. J. McLaurin, who delivered a speech.

Senator H. D. Money followed in arraignment of the republican party, and appealed for democratic unity.

PEOPLE FLEEING TO ESCAPE FLOOD

Worst Deluge in Years Being Experienced in Iowa.

Many Houses Swept Away, but No Lives Lost—Vast Tract of Farming Country Has Been Turned Into an Inland Sea.

Clinton, Iowa, July 23.—The worst flood in years is being experienced in Whiteside and Bureau counties, on the Illinois side of the Mississippi river, as a result of today's deluge of rain. Many houses were washed away, but so far as known no lives were lost. Hundreds of head of horses, cattle and sheep were drowned, and the loss of growing crops is beyond estimate at this time.

Thousands of acres of corn and unharvested small grain and a great deal in the shock was washed into the swollen streams and is a total loss. Hennepin canal and Green river are overflowed for miles and there is a lake 7 to 8 feet deep and 10 miles wide traversing the lowlands of these streams. A great number of families of farmers were driven from their homes and tonight are either camping on the hills or being cared for by more fortunate neighbors.

Cloudburst Floods a Town.

Waterloo, Iowa, July 23.—A cloudburst at 4 o'clock this afternoon did $50,000 damage and drove twenty families from their homes. At one time the business streets of the town were under from 2 to 3 feet of water, and hardly a basement in the city escaped being flooded. Dry Run creek became a torrent and for the second time this year overflowed. No lives were lost.

Hundreds in Poverty.

Keokuk, Iowa, July 23.—The Mississippi flood reached its maximum throughout the district on the Missouri side and the crest was at Hannibal at noon today, when the stage was at a standstill. The river fell 4 inches at Quincy and 10 inches at Keokuk.

The commissioners for Illinois levees report them in good condition and the protected country of many square miles safe. The farmers of the flooded territory are scattering to the cities for work at any kind of employment, some as far north as Dubuque. Hundreds are in a pitiable condition of abject poverty. It will require two weeks to uncover the ground.

TWO HUNDRED ARE DROWNED

By the Capsizing of a Steamer—All Victims Chinese.

Hong Kong, July 23.—A native steamer has capsized in the West river and 200 persons drowned.

SHORT ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

AFTER THE DELIGHTFULLY COOL weather which Atlanta has been enjoying during the past few days, it will not be pleasant to learn that in all probability the thermometer will today begin to climb the glassy tube. An area of relatively high pressure covers the eastern half of the country, with its center over the middle Atlantic states. This area of high pressure will probably drift southward, and the result will be the drawing of the heated air up from the gulf and over this part of the country.

THE 6-MONTHS-OLD SON OF MR. and Mrs. W. T. Donaldson died at the home of its parents in Kirkwood at 9:30 o'clock last night. He was a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Haygood. The announcement for the funeral will be made later.

W. M. PENDLETON FILED A PETITION of voluntary bankruptcy with the clerk of the United States district court yesterday. The petition gives his liabilities at $12,647.97. The assets are scheduled. John E. McCl[illegible]and is Mr. Pendleton's attorney. P. H. Adams is referee in the case.

THE GREATER NUMBER OF THE visitors here to witness the unveiling of the monument to General Walker have returned home. Veterans made up the majority of the visitors, and nearly all of them left Tuesday evening and night. They came principally from the vicinity of Atlanta, and middle Georgia. General O. O. Howard left for Burlington yesterday afternoon. General Alex P. Stewart also left yesterday afternoon, for Chattanooga. Only a few guests are still here, and they will leave today.

THE HENRY W. GRADY DEBATING Club will hold an interesting session tomorrow evening. The subject for discussion is: "Resolved, That the progress of our country is due more to the form of our government than to our religion." The speakers for the affirmative are S. Aronson and J. O. Cochran. The negative is represented by W. W. Futrell and J. H. Moore.

THE ATLANTA PHILOSOPHICAL Society will meet Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Good Templars' hall, 72 1-2 North Broad street. Mrs. Nellie M. Jerauld will deliver an address on "The Origin, Development and Art of Language." The public is cordially invited.

THE BALL OF THE LADIES' AUXiliary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen at Ponce de Leon springs Tuesday night was a success in every respect. A large crowd attended and the occasion was greatly enjoyed. The committee in charge is pleased with the outcome of the ball and with the amount realized.

PAUL COCHRAN, OF OAKDALE, was shot in the arm by Sol Milner, also of Oakdale, as he stepped from the Southern railway train at that place Tuesday afternoon. The wound is not a serious one. Cochran had spent the day in Atlanta and was returning to his home at the time of the shooting. The cause of the shooting is unknown.

JAMES SHACKELARIS, A GREEK, was brought to Atlanta from Birmingham last night by Detective Newport Lanford on the charge of having obtained money under false pretenses. Shackelaris is claimed to have represented to a fellow countryman here that he desired to enlarge his business and secured $100 for this purpose. It is said that Shackelaris then went to Birmingham, and a warrant was taken out for his arrest.

THE CONDITION OF ISHAM DANIEL was reported at a late hour last night as being unchanged. He rested quietly during yesterday, and was sleeping when heard from last night.

PELVIC CATARRH

CAUSES

Palpitation of the Heart, Cold Hands and Feet, Sinking Feelings—Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Mrs. X. Schneider, 2409 Thirty-seventh Place, Chicago, Ills., writes:

"After taking several remedies without result, I began in January, 1901, to take your valuable remedy, Peruna. I was a complete wreck. Had palpitation of the heart, cold hands and feet, female weakness, no appetite, trembling, sinking feeling nearly all the time. You said I was suffering with systemic catarrh, and I believe that I received your help in the nick of time. I followed your directions carefully and can say today that I am well again. I cannot thank you enough for my cure. I will always be your debtor. I have already recommended Peruna to my friends and neighbors and they all praise it. I wish that all suffering women would try it. I testify this according to the truth."—Mrs. X. Schneider.

Over half the women have catarrh in some form or another. And yet, probably, not a tenth of the women know that their disease is catarrh. To distinguish catarrh of various organs it has been named very differently.

One woman has dyspepsia, another bronchitis, another Bright's disease, another liver complaint, another consumption, another female complaint. These women would be very much surprsed to hear that they are all suffering with chronic catarrh. But it is so, nevertheless.

Each one of these troubles and a great many more are simply catarrh—that is, chronic inflammation of the mucous lining of whichever organ is affected. Any internal remedy that will cure catarrh in one location will cure it in any other. This is why Peruna has become so justly famous in the cure of female diseases. It cures catarrh wherever located. Its cures remain. Peruna does not palliate—it cures.

Hon. Joseph B. Crowley, congressman from Illinois, writes from Robinson, Ills., the following praise for the great catarrhal tonic Peruna. Congessman Crowley says:

"Mrs. Crowley has taken a number of bottles of Peruna on account of nervous troubles. It has proven a strong tonic and lasting cure. I can cheerfully recommend it."—J. B. Crowley.

HIS BLOOD IS VERY BLUE BUT HIS MANNERS ARE BAD

San Francisco, July 23.—Otto F. O. Meder, once lieutenant of a crack regiment in the German army, and by his own account the scion of an aristocratic but impoverished family of Hanover, has been arrested and lodged in the city prison here.

He is accused of felony in betraying the trust of friends and obtaining $700 from George Sunewald, proprietor of the Hotel Delmonte, on a spurious check. Lieutenant Wilhelm Valentin, of the Prussian cuirassiers and an agent of his government while in the United States, also accuses Meder of obtaining more than $100,000 from him by false pretenses.

When arrested at the German consulate Meder had just received a letter from a young lady of New Orleans telling him that she had paid $160 for papers to which he had forged her name and saying that if he did not return the money she would notify the police of San Francisco.

Condition of the King.

London, July 23.—King Edward today enjoyed the improved weather at Cowes, Isle of Wight. He spent the forenoon in an invalid's chair on the open deck. There is every indication of his majesty's continued progress toward complete convalescence.

Great Tract Flooded.

Springfield, Ills., July 23.—A portion of Lacy levee at Havana was washed away today by flood water of the Illinois river and 12,000 acres of land, 5,000 of which were under cultivation, are now inundated by water varying in depth from 5 to 10 feet. No fatalities have been reported.

The ropes of conservatism will hold any business back. One of the first "knots" to undo to get ahead is poor printing. A firm that sends out clean, up-to-date, well-printed business literature, is leagues ahead of the competitor who sticks to the old-fashioned kind—just because he's always had it.

10 Cents per Week Delivered In the City by Carrier System

THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION

From 48 to 56 Pages---Including The Sunny South.

AND THE DAILY CONSTITUTION

10 Cents per Week Delivered In the City by Carrier System

THIS means that you get The Daily Constitution for less than one cent a copy, delivered before breakfast by carrier in any part of the city, or in any local suburb that is reached by carrier system. If you do not subscribe to The Sunday Constitution it is because you buy it each Sunday---everybody does---and pay five cents for it. Why not pay a nickel more---10 cents in all---and get The Daily and Sunday Constitution delivered by carrier at your home. Thus, for the additional five cents you get six issues of the best daily paper in the south for less than one cent a copy. For ten cents you can secure each week The Sunday Constitution, which averages 50 pages, The Sunny South and the daily, which averages 12 pages; or, in concise figures, more than 12 ten-page papers for ten cents, delivered before breakfast.

The Sunday Constitution is not given away—it is not thrown into homes free of cost---for the white paper alone is worth the amount paid for it, without figuring the cost of special features, the telegraph tolls and the infinite amount of work by hundreds of trained men required to accomplish the feat of producing the best, biggest and brightest Sunday paper in the south. The Constitution, Sunday and Daily, has access to the cable service of two of the biggest and most enterprising dailies in the north. The Sunday Constitution prints the only really national funny features---all the others are admittedly outclassed. "After you, my dear Alphonse," is a phrase that usage has made historic; "Foxy Grandpa" is the acme of delight to old and young; and those funny Katzenjammer Kids, their Ma and Uncle Heinie remind the grown-ups of childhood days, and present to the children a mirror of their pranks. These features are great because they are simple, natural, not stilted, not weird---they are human!

Double the circulation of any other Sunday paper printed between New Orleans and Washington—a fact! That means circulation! The Sunday Constitution is too big and too good to be given away. People want it! They buy it. They get more than their money's worth. And by adding just a nickel they can get the daily—Sunday and daily, ten cents per week.

Advertisers are not spending their money for fun! They experience no joy in throwing away coin on publications that bring no returns. A few week ago one advertiser tried an Atlanta Sunday newspaper to the exclusion of The Sunday Constitution. In three weeks he had returned to The Sunday Constitution. He wanted value received for his money and that is what he gets when he advertises in The Sunday Constitution. But he is only one of many, as the following figures attest:

SUNDAY, JULY 6, 1902.

For four weeks ending June 29, 1902, The Constitution contained 62 pages more than its nearest contemporary, three times as many advertisements and one-third more reading. For three weeks ending July 20, 1902, The Sunday Constitution contained again more than three times as much advertising as its nearest contemporary; or the three Sunday issues combined of The Constitution's nearest contemporary contained 99 columns, while any one issue of The Constitution contained from 103 to 107 columns of ads. That is—

Each Sunday Constitution for the past three weeks contained more advertising than the combined three issues of its nearest contemporary.

SENT ENGAGEMENT RING TO HER DESERTED HUSBAND

Greensboro, N. C., July 23.—(Special.)—A sensation was sprung here today when the rumor became current that Ernest Hardin, head bookkeeper of the Revolution cotton mills, had run away with Mrs. John W. Stafford, wife of a boarding house keeper at the mill. The two left together on a north-bound train yesterday afternoon with baggage checked to Lynchburg.

Hardin has been for weeks carrying the clothing of Mrs. Stafford to his room, a small package at the time. He had accumulated a large sum of money to foot the bills of the couple, exhibiting to a friend yesterday a roll which he said contained $1,200.

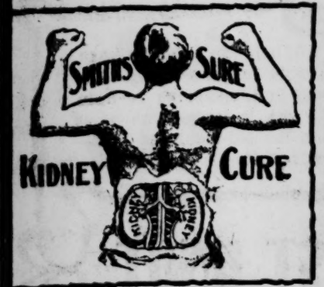

The woman wrote her husband a note in which she asked him not to think of her, for she was not worthy of it. She registered to him at the postoffice here their engagement ring. She left him with the care of four children. Hardin is a member of a well-to-do family of Randolph county.

SMITH'S SURE KIDNEY CURE.

Only people who have suffered from it know how serious Kidney trouble is. When the Kidneys are out of order the balance of the constitution is deranged, for the Kidneys are the great scavengers of the human body. Let the Kidneys get out of order and the digestion will be interfered with, the heart will be weak, there may be pimples and blotches on the face, the rheumatism and kindred ailments can get full sway. The only certainty of freedom from this disease is Smith's Sure Kidney Cure, for it not only cures all diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, but it builds up the general constitution as well, and J. H. Wright of Clarksdale, Miss., willingly testifies to this fact. He gave up a $100 position, and then cured of Kidney trouble got a still better position, for his system was clear then and he could work with interest. Mr. Wright says:

"I suffered from Kidney trouble, which finally became so aggravating that I was obliged to give up my position which was paying me $100 a month and came to the city for treatment, but after several months I was worse instead of better. I was advised of Smith's Sure Kidney Cure and bought a bottle and am now so well that I shall return to take a better position. My cure I regard as almost miraculous. My wife was also suffering, and she has been taking your medicine for a short time, and is so much improved that she already regards a cure for her certain.

J. H. WRIGHT,
Clarksdale, Miss."

Smith's Sure Kidney Cure contains nothing harmful but nevertheless it will entirely cure Bright's Disease, diabetes, dropsy, gravel, stone in the bladder, bloated bladder, frequent desire to urinate, pain in the back, legs, side and over the Kidneys, swelling of the feet and ankles, retention of urine, scalding, pain in the bladder, wetting the bed—in short, every form of Kidney, bladder and urinary trouble in man, woman or child.

WILL BORE FOR OIL NEAR ASHEVILLE

Ohio Capitalists and Specialists Believe They Will Strike It.

EVERY INDICATION IS FOUND

Test Well 2,300 Feet Deep Will Be Drilled, Which Will Cost About $7,000—Maps Setting Forth Geological Conditions Being Made.

Asheville, N. C., July 23.—(Special.)—The oil situation here has attracted the attention of a party of Ohio capitalists who are now in the city with a view of looking into the situation and makng some thorough tests along the line. These oil men are Messrs. W. F. Houser, Henry Heinsburger and Philip Marks, all of Columbus, Ohio. They are in no sense speculators. Messrs. Houser and Heinsburger are oil magnates and own a number of oil wells in Ohio and other states. Mr. Marks is a professional oil driller and is here making a test of the lay of the land.

Every indication, they say, goes to prove that oil exists in this section. The appearance of the mountains contains the same conditions of soil, the same sand and shale as found in the oil-producing fields of Ohio. They further claim that the same strata which underlies the oil fields of Ohio and Virginia underlies the mountains here. The upheaval here, however, has produced a different and peculiar rock formation. Instead of the rock lying flat, as suual, the rocks here stand on their edges, which will make boring exceedingly difficult.

These oil men are figuring the cost of making a test well. Unless sea level is reached they think there is no use in making the attempt. They do not believe that oil exists in pockets, but is forced up by the sea's pressure. They claim that it is the same strata that underlies their Ohio wells that run through these mountains.

It is calculated that a test well would require a depth of perhaps at least 2,300 feet, the estimated cost of which would be about $7,000.

Mr. Houser and his party will perhaps be here several weeks yet investigating the situation. They are having some maps made setting forth the geological conditions, etc.

POLICE CHIEF IS MURDERED.

Shot from Ambush While Trying To Arrest Negroes.

Elkins, W. Va., July 23.—Chief of Police F. H. Wilmoth, of this town, was murdered late last night at Womelsdorf, near here. Wilmoth was in the act of arresting two negroes when a third man shot him from ambush. A posse is in pursuit of the murderer, and it is believed he will be lynched if caught. This is the third murder of an Elkins chief of police within a year, the other two victims being Robert Lilly and Page Marstellar.

PROF. MONTAGUE LEAVES FURMAN

President of South Carolina College Tenders Resignation.

He Has Accepted Presidency of Howard College Near Birmingham. Has Accomplished Great Results for Institution. Increased Attendance.

Greenville, S. C., July 23.—(Special.)—Dr. Andrew Philip Montague this afternoon resigned the presidency of the Furman university to accept the presidency of Howard college, located near Birmingham, Ala., the resignation to take effect August 15th.

This announcement will be a great surprise, and it will be received by the people of Greenville and by Baptists throughout South Carolina with a feeling of deep sorrow and intense regret. During his five years' connection with Furman, Dr. Montague has accomplished great results and has been of untold benefit to the institution.

His record will never be forgotten and his influence will be felt for years to come. Among the improvements he has made at Furman is the erection of a large and handsome auditorium, a new dormitory, established a fitting school, and through his efforts neat, substantial buildings for that school have been erected, the improvements aggregating several thousand dollars. He has also increased the attendance from 125 to over 230.

Valuable Timber Lands Sold in Tennessee, and Southern Will Build Branch To Develop Same, and Run from Rabun Gap to Bushnell, S. C.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 23.—(Special.)—Tonight Dr. J. Harris Chappell, president of the State Normal and Industrial college at Milledgeville, Ga., will begin a series of lectures at the summer school for the south. His addresses are being anticipated with very great interest by the attendants at the summer school.

Professor James E. Hughes, of Toronto, is now giving a series of lectures on kindergarten work that are proving a most valuable and interesting feature of the summer school work.

Big Sale Timber Lands.

It is given out here that Coudersport, Pa., people, headed by W. H. Carpenter, have purchased 1,000 acres of valuable timber lands in Monroe county, Tennessee, at the mouth of Citico creek. Also, that the company has arranged with the Southern railway for the latter to build a branch line from Maryville to penetrate this tract and to enter other timber lands, making a total distance of 25 miles for the new road. It is stated that the Southern will make this a first-class road, with the idea in mind of eventually extending it through Rabun Gap in the mountains over to Bushnell, N. C., to connect with the Southern's branch which now runs from Murphy to Asheville. It is understood work on both the lumber plant and the railroad will begin at once.

Tennessee Oil Lands.

J. F. Catron, of Barboursville, Ky., has been in Anderson county, Tennessee, inspecting reputed oil lands and taking leases on same wherever possible. He is representing the Standard Oil Company, which concern is entering all the reported oil fields and making determinations as to the presence of oil. Mr. Catron says boring will begin in Anderson county as soon as possible, and if good results are had the oil will be extensively developed. He says he has recently been in Fentress county, Tennessee, and every test made there makes the outlook most encouraging for the development of a permanent oil field. The Coal Creek coal fields are in Anderson county.

To Build Tanneries.

Samuel G. and George H. Maxwell, of Titusville, Pa., representing northern and eastern capitalists, are at Jellico directing the rebuilding of the large tannery at that place which was recently acquired by their company. In a few days they will leave for South Carolina and Georgia points on a tour of inspection. They want two sites in either of these states for as many large tanneries which they propose to erect somewhere in the southern states.

Two Children Are Cremated.

Baltimore, July 23.—A gasoline stove exploded at Pinto, Md., today in the home of W. H. Feathers. The house was consumed and two children, 6 and 4 years of age, burned to death. Mrs. Feathers barely escaped with her life and her young baby was seriously burned.

WIFE AND FATHER CALLED BY DEATH

Two More Victims of Sloop Lovell Dell Disaster.

Dr. Stephen A. Calder and Mrs. Allen N. Calder, Rescued from Cabin, Are Dead—Body of Little Olga Is Not Recovered.

Savannah, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Two more victims of the dreadful accident to the sloop Lovell Dell were claimed by death. They were Dr. Stephen A. Calder and Mrs. Allen N. Calder.

The Constitution today told of how Mrs. Stephen A. Calder and her grandchild, little Olga Calder, 18 months old, met their death. The sloop was struck by a violent squall while at Hell Gate, at the mouth of the Ogeechee river, and overturned. Her cabin, where nearly all of those aboard had taken refuge, filled immediately with water, and those within were unable to get out. Allen A. Calder, captain of the boat, made heroic efforts at rescue, and these were partially successful. By diving into the cabin he brought forth his dying mother and five others. These were Stephen A. Calder, his father; his wife and three sons, Frank, Lawrence and DeLacey.

Body of Olga Not Found.

Stephen A. Calder, who was 75 years old, and Mrs. Allen A. Calder died tonight from congestion of the lungs. Their condition was recognized as critical throughout the day, the exposure having proved too great for them to withstand.

Captain Calder spent the day in a launch looking for the body of his baby, Olga. This, however, had been swept from the cabin of the capsized sloop and could not be found.

The bodies of Stephen A. Calder and wife will be shipped to Sunbury for interment. That of Mrs. Allen A. Calder will be buried in Bonaventure.

Dr. Stephen A. Calder was for thirty years a practicing dentist in McIntosh county, afterwards drifting to Liberty county, where he gave up the practice of dentistry to go into the newspaper business as editor and publisher of The Hinesville Gazette. This he continued for some years, until the paper was sold to The Liberty Herald. After leaving the newspaper business Dr. Calder retired to his farm near Hinesville, and a year or two ago moved to Sunbury, where he had since resided.

Married Forty Years.

Dr. and Mrs. Calder had been married about forty years and have living today six sons, all grown to manhood and in most instances having families of their own. The names of the sons are Stephen, Allen, Julius, Vernon, Douz and Robert. The first named lives at Sunbury; Allen lives at Thunderbolt, as does Robert, while Julius and Vernon are in the service of the Southern Express Company as messengers. Douz is in the employ of the Atlantic Coast Line as telegraph operator.

Dr. Calder was in charge of the editorial department of The Hinesville Gazette when the populist party first came into existence in Georgia, and after it was started his was the first newspaper in the country to espouse the cause. His writings were widely copied in the populist press of the country, and he gained for himself no small reputation.

KILLED WIFE AND DAUGHTER.

NEGRO SHOOTS WOMAN TO DEATH IN AMERICUS.

Posse with Blood Hounds Are After Man, and if Captured Lynching May Follow.

Americus, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Monroe Adams shot and killed his wife and daughter in a jealous rage tonight.

It appears that the negro's wife had gone to visit her daughter, when the husband followed with a shotgun. When he arrived at the home of his daughter he shot the brains out of them both, one falling on the veranda and the other in the front yard. The killing occurred almost in the shadow of the court house on Jefferson street.

Adams escaped, but will be captured, as a sheriff's posse with bloodhounds are in pursuit.

Two thousand people are gathered at the scene of the killing, and if the negro is captured a lynching is probable.

SAVANNAH GETS FIRST BALE.

Cotton Was Sold at Auction and Brought 11 Cents.

Savannah, Ga., July 23.—The first bale of new cotton of the season of 1902-03 was received here yesterday afternoon and sold this morning at auction in front of the cotton exchange for 11 cents. It was bought of Lehardy & Co. for H. & E. Heres, of New Orleans, and will be exported at once to Liverpool. The bale classed fully middling.

SHOT AND HIS THROAT CUT

One Man Killed and Two Wounded in Fight.

BATTLE IN NEWTON COUNTY

Richard Smith, Jr., Dead, Richard Smith, Jr., and Man Named Tomlin Seriously Injured.

Macon, Ga., July 23.—A Telegraph special from Newton county says that at Grants spring, on William Pickett's plantation, last Sunday, a fight occurred, in which Richard Smith, Jr., was shot and his throat cut; Richard Smith, Sr., shot through the lung, and a man named Tomlin cut about the face. Young Smith is dead and the condition of the other two is precarious.

The quarrel was between Tomlin on one side and the Smiths on the other.

BISHOP BARNWELL VERY ILL.

OPERATED ON FOR APPENDICITIS AT SELMA, ALA.

It Is Thought by Physicians That He Will Recover—Brakeman Shot by Tramp.

Selma, Ala., July 23.—(Special.)—Rt. Rev. R. W. Barnwell, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Alabama, was successfully operated on for appendicitis at the city infirmary in this city today.

The operation was in every way successful, and it is thought he will recover rapidly, as he has great vitality.

Collie Brown, a brakeman of the Southern road, was shot and fatally wounded by a tramp at Uniontown early this morning.

He had put the tramp off the train several times after leaving Meridian. When the train reached Uniontown the conductor told the brakeman to see that the tramp rode no farther, so when he attempted to again board the train Brown pulled him off. This so enraged the tramp that he drew a pistol and fired twice, both balls taking effect in the brakeman's stomach. The tramp escaped. The wounded brakeman will probably die.

Saves a Woman's Life.

To have given up would have meant death for Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from a severe lung trouble and obstinate cough. "Often," she writes, "I could scarcely breathe and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Trouble need this grand remedy, for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

RIFLE SHOOT FOR SOLDIERS.

All Troops in Department of the Lakes To Contest.

Chicago, July 23.—For the first time since 1897 there is to be a general rifle contest for the soldiers of the department of the lakes at Fort Sheridan. The contest is open to representatives of the various regiments belonging to the department, and one contestant from each company will enter the competition. The event is restricted to the infantry. The contest will commence August 1, and is to continue five days.

In addition to the long-range shooting, there will be a skirmish practice with the regulation United States silhouette targets, representing standing, kneeling and prone soldiers. These targets are placed in position on the range, and in skirmish formation the contestants advance toward them, retreat from them, and at stated intervals are commanded to fire. The shots are made at distances ranging from 200 to 600 yards.

FOR RIVERS AND HARBORS.

Estimates Submitted by Captain Gillette, of Savannaah.

Washington, July 23.—The chief of engineers today received a number of reports from officers in charge of rivers and harbors together with the estimates for the fiscal year 1904.

Captain Cassius B. Gillette, in charge of the improvements at Savannah, Ga., submitted the following: Savannah harbor, $1,050,000; harbor at Darien, Ga., $30,000; Altamaha river, Georgia, $38,000; Oconee river, Georgia, $38,000; Brunswick harbor, Georgia, $175,000; inside water route between Savannah, Ga., and Fernandina, Fla., $56,000; Cumberland sound, Georgia and Florida, $400,000.

MACON MAY GET BIG SANITARIUM

If Site Can Be Had Institution Will Be Located There.

Mayor Smith Says He Can Supply Suitable Location—Captain Hazlehurst Qualifies as Sharpshooter—Other Central City News Notes.

Macon, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—A prominent financial agent in Detroit, Mich., on the advice of R. E. Park, treasurer of the state of Georgia, has written a letter to Mayor Smith concerning the establishing of a large first-class sanitarium in Macon. Here is an extract from the lettter:

"If I can have the cooperation of your citizens I can establish a sanitarium, which will be first-class in every respect, and it will be a credit to your city and state. I would like to have a good site and have some good citizens interested in the enterprise, as I can do all the financiering and get all the money we need after we are organized. I know the project will be a great success, as there are a great number of inquiries in the north for southern sanitariums. Kindly give this matter your attention and let me hear from you at your earliest convenience."

In speaking of a site the mayor said this morning:

"I believe I can point out the loveliest site on earth for just such a sanitarium. It is high and dry, swept by breezes that sift through the pines, and is almost within a stone's throw of the city limits. I believe it could be procured for a small sum, and if a sanitarium is built on it there could not be a healthier spot. Macon is just the place for a sanitarium, and I hope our citizens will embrace this opportunity to secure one."

Qualifies as Sharpshooter.

This morning at the rifle range Captain Robert Hazlehurst, of the Macon Volunteers, made 124 points, which is four points above the number required to qualify as a sharpshooter. This score entitles him to a sharpshooter's badge for 1902 and does not prohibit him from entering the novice match at Savannah next month. This is the first qualification made at the Macon rifle range, and first qualification made by a Macon man. At the local practice which has been going on at the range, Sergeant Starr and Corporal Johnson, of the Volunteers, have qualified scores on the 200, 300 and 500 ranges, which gives them a splendid opportunity to qualify as sharpshooters on the skirmish. The Volunteers will send a team to the Savannah shoot.

Hon. Joe Hall Returns.

Hon. Joseph H. Hall has returned from a visit to the northern part of the state. While away he spoke to a large audience at Douglasville on the line of the addresses he delivered in the recent gubernatorial compaign. Mr. Hall says he obtained a number of political pointers that interested him greatly. Mr. Hall may make several speeches in the state between now and the convening of the legislature.

Macon News Notes.

Hon. Newt Morris, of Marietta, a candidate for speaker of the next house of representatives of Georgia, was in Macon today en route to the lower part of the state.

Hon. T. W. Lane, of Americus, spent the day in the city. He has represented Sumter county in the legislature for two terms and has been renominated for the next house.

Lieutenant Blanton Winship, who, with the Sixteenth regiment, is stationed in Atlanta, arrived in Macon this afternoon on a visit to his mother. Lieutenant Winship is an able and popular officer.

A petition in voluntary bankruptcy was filed in the United States court today at Macon by Louis G. Moffett, of Dublin, Ga. His debts are $1,285.78, assets $1,685.86.

The Garment Workers Association, composed entirely of women, was organized last night with Miss Mamie Harrell as president and Miss Mattie Herndon as secretary.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND LOSS.

Planing Mill and Tobacco Factory Burns at Owensboro, Ky.

Owensboro, Ky., July 23.—Fire broke out in the plant of the Owensboro Planing Mill Company at 4 o'clock this morning, destroying it and the plant of the Continental Tobacco Company. The loss on the planing mill is estimated at $20,000, while that on the tobacco factory will reach $80,000. Several box cars on the railroad siding were burned. Both plants were partially insured. Chief of the fire department, Albert Tennis, was overcome by heat and is in a critical condition.

For White Primary.

Augusta, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—A mass meeting at the court house tonight elected the following white primary executive committee for the ensuing year:

First ward, Rufus H. Brown, J. E. Woodruff and Irvin Alexander; second ward, Henry M. North, Hugh McLaws and R. E. Allen; third ward, William Martin, J. C. Flynn and R. G. Tarver; fourth ward, D. G. Fogarty, George Schaufele and J. A. A. W. Clark; fifth ward, C. B. Matheney, A. C. Brinson and W. T. Field.

A resolution introduced by E. B. Hook was adopted instructing the new committee to devise ways and means for stopping the buying and selling of votes at primary elections.

Refused To Revoke Charter.

Norfolk, Va., July 23.—At today's session of the National Association of Stage Employees the day was consumed in a discussion of the advisability of revoking the charter of Detroit alliance, for alleged irregularities, and the proposition to allow Denver to withdraw from the American Federation of Labor. The body refused to revoke the Detroit charter. Denver was allowed to withdraw from the federation.

Peacock Elected Ordinary.

Madison, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—In the nomination today for ordinary to fill the unexpired term of T. B. Baldwin, resigned, R. L. Peacock defeated L. H. Foster. All the returns are not in, but enough is known to make Peacock's election assured.

Is Negro in Rome Jail?

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 23.—(Special.) Citizens of Lafayette, Ga., believe that officers have captured the assailant of Mrs. Wates Phipps, and that he is being secretly held at Rome, Ga., to prevent a lynching. It is said that officers wanted Mrs. Phipps to go to Rome, secretly, to identify the negro, but that her friends protested against her doing so.

E. L. Duckett Elected.

Maysville, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—The count is still unfinished, but it is conceded that E. L. Duckett has carried Banks by a small majority for representative. John R. Rylee, sheriff.

CATARRH

The treatment of Catarrh with antiseptic and astringent washes, lotions, salves, medicated tobacco and cigarettes, or any external or local application, is just as unreasonable and senseless as would be kindling a fire on top of the pot to make it boil. True, these give temporary relief, but the cavities and passages of the head and the bronchial tubes almost immediately fill up again with mucus.

Taking cold is the first step towards Catarrh, for it checks perspiration, and the poisonous acids and vapors, which should pass off through the skin, are thrown back upon the mucous membrane or inner skin, producing inflammation and excessive flow of mucus, much of which is absorbed into the blood and through the circulation reaches every part of the system, involving the Stomach, Kidneys and other parts of the body. When the disease assumes the dry form, the breath becomes exceedingly foul, blinding headaches are frequent, the eyes red, hearing affected and a constant ringing in the ears. No remedy that does not reach the polluted blood can cure Catarrh. S. S. S. expels from the circulation all offensive effete matter, and when rich pure blood is again coursing through the body the mucous membranes become healthy and the skin active, all the disagreeable painful symptoms disappear, and a permanent, thorough cure is effected. S. S. S. being a strictly vegetable blood purifier does not derange the Stomach and digestion, but the appetite and general health rapidly improve under its tonic effects. Write us about your case and get the best medical advice free. Book on blood and skin diseases sent on application.

ATLANTA, GA., July 24, 1902.

The Atlanta Man.

You cannot down an Atlanta man. The Atlanta spirit has become proverbial. It carries success in whatsoever direction it is utilized.

Out in Missouri, Atlanta has a namesake which seems to deserve the credit of being a chip off the old block, and at least one citizen deserves admission to the select circle of resource and enterprise which is typified by the name. He is Mr. J. C. [illegible], editor of The News, published in that city.

One day last week Atlanta was visited by a violent hailstorm, which destroyed all the windows of the Baptist, Presbyterian and Universalist churches, entailing what seemed to the pastors of those churches a depressing loss. In their dismay, the representatives of the churches went to Editor Round, who is naturally looked upon as the big man of the community. They didn't know what to do.

"Why not advertise a hailstorm social?" asked the editor, who rose promptly to the needs of the occasion. "Gather up those hailstones and freeze ice cream and sherbet with them. I'll print your advertisement and dodgers for nothing. You go ahead and do the rest."

His advice was followed with eminent success. The hailstorm social netted more than the amount needed to repair the losses of the different churches and will go down in Atlanta history as one of its greatest successes.

From this episode the St. Louis Republic, which tells the story, draws the conclusion that the editor is still the most valuable member of the society he honors with his presence—which is certainly true when he is an Atlanta man.

Mackay's Great Undertaking.

It is stated that the late John W. Mackay left his business affairs in such shape that the enterprises of which he was the ruling factor will go on after his death on the lines mapped out by him.

It is to be hoped that this is true, especially with regard to one to which he devoted much time and in which he was deeply interested. Shortly before he was stricken down by what proved, unfortunately, his last illness, Mr. Mackay expressed the determination to finish the laying of a Pacific cable, after which he would be ready to retire from business.

That Pacific cable is one of the most important projects with which the Mackay name has been connected. Not from a commercial standpoint merely, but from a national standpoint. The need for a cable across the Pacific is universally recognized. Since the acquisition of Hawaii and the Philippines, the interest of the United States in the promotion of such an enterprise increased an hundred fold. Up to the time that Mr. Mackay and his associates of the Pacific Commercial Cable Company took hold of the matter, it seemed as if the only way to secure such a cable would be for the government to build it at an outlay of fifteen million dollars or more, the alternative being the payment of a heavy subsidy to some private enterprise. While there were differences of opinion as to the merits of these two plans, there was no difference as to the crying needs for a Pacific cable.

When Mr. Mackay appeared on the scene. His business sense told him that in the development of American commerce with the Orient there was assurance of profits warranting the construction of a cable as a purely business enterprise and without asking a subsidy from the government. His name was an assurance that such an enterprise under his direction would be a success, and when his company gave this government an option on its property and concessions insuring American control, congress refused to build a government cable to compete with his enterprise.

The work of laying the cable is well under way. In a few months Honolulu will be connected with the mainland by cable, and if the company is given access to the soundings which have been made by the navy department it will not be many more months before there is an American cable station on Guam, and direct connection with Manila will be but a question of a very short time. The interests of the United States are safeguarded in every way in the contract between the new company and the government.

It is to be regretted that Mr. Mackay did not live long enough to see his ambitions in this line consummated. The work will, however, be carried forward in accordance with his plans. That the cable will inure greatly to the benefit of American commerce on the Pacific there can be no question. If he had done nothing else in life, Mackay's memory would be secure with his fellow-countrymen because of this great enterprise.

Jakie's Punishment.

The punishment given Hellroaring Jakesmith for his kill and burn orders, with their howling wilderness accompaniment, is to do nothing for each day of the week, each week of the month, and each month of the year during his natural life, in return for which he is to receive $3,000 a year from the government. That would not seem a very severe punishment; there are some people outside of army circles who would not consider it any punishment at all.

There is, however, some tendency to criticise the president for his action and there is a bare possibility that General Smith may, when he arrives in this country, test the validity of his summary retirement, coming as it did as the result of the review by the president of the courtmartial's findings.

It is claimed, and the analysis of military law seems to warrant the claim, that the president transcended the law. The law is clear that the president has no power to add to the sentence of a military court, though he is given the right to mitigate the sentence if he sees fit. In this case, the sentence of the courtmartial was a reprimand. President Roosevelt, in his order passing upon the sentence took advantage of his right to retire the general under the age provision, thus in effect adding to the punishment prescribed by the court.

While the military men may not dispute the justice of the retirement, they do question the regularity of the procedure and, naturally, see danger in the precedent it sets. It is feared that this action may be in the future distorted into warrant for executive increase of penalties fixed by the courtmartials. Naturally they are jealous of the rights and duties of the courts by which they are adjudged.

In this case they seem to have both the law and the logic on their side, and some of the president's strongest supporters are urging that he set aside his first indorsement, administer the reprimand directed by the court, and in a separate order retire General Smith.

There is not much punishment in it for him in any event.

The President's Anti-Trust Pose.

Some of our republican contemporaries affect a severe indignation because the sincerity of the president's warfare, so-called, against the trusts is doubted. They admonish the faithless to remember that Mr. Roosevelt is a very strenuous man, and a very bold reformer, and a really invincible proposition when he once gets his head set!

But all that may be admitted and still the fact remains that the president has not yet explained why he refused and failed to do up the sugar trust when he had the chance in the last session of congress? Nor why he did not back up Congressman Babcock in his endeavors to knock the props from under the billion-dollar steel trust with its 40 per cent profits donated by the unnecessary iron and steel schedules of the Dingley tariff?

What has the president done to make hard the way of the trust transgressors? Absolutely nothing more than to talk volubly about "publicity" as a modus of making them ashamed of their rascalities and the institution of a few futile law suits to make plainer than ever the utter incompetency of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The president is no fool. He knows that the trusts and the men behind them are the main stays of the financial bureaus of republican campaigns. He knows that those men supply the sinews of success to the republican party as the consideration for the very situation that now obtains in the legislation and commercial conditions in the country. He knows that if he does damage to the trusts he will sacrifice his party and perhaps himself as Samson did in his final deal with the lords of the Philistines.

The people know those things, also, and therefore they find it hard to believe that a real, bona fide Brutus has come to the white house in the person of Mr. Roosevelt. Therefore they are prepared to learn that all this anti-trust hurrah is a Chinese devildance—purely a matter of red-paper lanterns and fire-crackers.

The trusts own and control the republican party and they will not hesitate to throw Mr. Roosevelt over the ship's gunwales if he does not promise to be good! And he will be good! No legislation that would really hurt the trusts can be passed in a republican congress and nobody knows it better than the president. His present attitude can be nothing more than a pose for campaign purposes.

New York's Latest.

The worst thing about this May Yohe-"Putty" Strong mess is that it will probably furnish the lady with an excuse to get back on the stage. Even the columns of slush being unloaded upon their readers by the newspapers of New York do not constitute an affliction comparable to that. It is all right for New Yorkers to have to suffer a little during the silly season; they are used to it and may not complain, but the theatergoing public does not deserve such punishment.

There is no end of sympathy for the poor mother of young Strong, whose notorious affair with the wife of Lord Francis Hope has been a scandal from one end of the world to the other, and who has succeeded in dragging the honorable Strong name into the dust, but there can be no sympathy for either of the principals. Young Strong deliberately threw away an honorable position in the army that he might bask in the smiles of a woman whose pose has been that of a man-devourer, and it was his inevitable fate to go down to ruin. He has gone the pace that kills.

With the woman it is the familiar story of age throwing away everything in its fascination for youth, the young lover soon tiring and seeking other fields. An older woman takes long chances when she undertakes to hold the love of a man much younger than herself. When she deserted Hope, who was apparently foolish enough to put faith in her, and ran away with the young army officer, the Yohe woman went into a game in which she had scarcely a chance to win. There is absolutely no ground for sympathy for her.

The real moral to be drawn from the nauseous story is that of the story of Sapho. It is not the woman alone who suffers from affairs of this kind. Sometimes the man may escape, but oftener than otherwise he is dragged down even below the level of the woman. Strong's finish is found in the charge of theft recorded against him. He flew high for a time, but he fell far and lit hard.

TALKS ABOUT ATLANTA.

Rochelle New Era: Even all the Atlanta papers have given up all hope of having a new depot.

Rochelle New Era: Atlanta is up against a snag on her baseball team—she can't brag on her team.

Athens Banner: In spite of the cartoonists, the old depot in Atlanta continues to weather the storm.

Carroll Free Press: Atlanta can't have a depot, but she has decided to have a big plant to make car wheels.

Dublin Courier-Dispatch: Atlanta's baseball team seems to be on a par with the great Atlanta union depot—neither come up to expectations.

Dublin Courier: Our sympathy goes out to Atlanta. The pope of Rome recently stated in an interview that he knew about Savannah as he had a bishop there, but could not locate Atlanta. Hence these tears.

Washington Reporter: Poor Atlanta! Her ball team can't win often enough to keep near the top, and there is a gnashing and wailing of teeth in the Gate City.

Washington Reporter: A negro in Atlanta pawned a Bible for a pint of liquor. He was almost as bad as a negro preacher in Wilkes county who wrote a note to a firm here ordering "one Bible, two pints of corn liquor and a razor."

Kentucky Plant Burned.

Owensboro, Ky., July 23.—The plant of the Owensboro Planing Mill Company and the plant of the Continental Tobacco Company were destroyed by fire today. Loss $100,000. The chief of the fire department, Albert Tennes, was overcome by the heat and is in a critical condition.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA."

A Dreamer of the Valleys.

I.

Never wus much of a traveler—never wus built to roam;
Ruther be here, in the valleys, singin' the songs of Home.
Here, in the flowerin' meadows, one with the plains an' hills,
Dreamin' deep in the daisies—driftin' on with the rills.

II.

Never wus much of a traveler—goin' so fur away,
The stars don't fringe the darkness—the sun don't light the day!
Here, in the old home-places, ever the bright light seems
To fall on the fairest faces, an' bless the sweetest dreams.

III.

For the world is wide an' weary, an' often its light appears,
To shine from the heights above us through a streamin' storm of tears!
An' though still the flowers will blossom in the pathways where we roam,
The sweetest of the flowers are there—in the vales of Home.

Of "Poems You Should Know."

Mr. S. E. Kiser, of The Chicago Record-Herald, has a department of his own devoted to the "Poems You Should Know." Here is one, from the Sweet Singer of Whitsett, which should not be slighted by him:

"I have heard dogs bark at the moon,
I have heard them their howlings prolong,
It helped the dogs pass time away,
And the moon still kept moving along.

"I have seen human dogs try to down
The man who for Right has grown strong,
Their barking amused them, no doubt,
But the man still kept moving along."

A Poet's Farewell.

A recent issue of our esteemed contemporary, The Blue Ridge Post, contains these truthful and affecting stanzas, from the pen of the Poet Pearson:

"The editors and writers
Work for pay, not always money,
For they are always glad to get
Potatoes, corn or honey.
The drunkard sees no beauty
In the empty bowl or jug—
Where the old hen scratches
She expects to find a bug.

"The authors and the poets
Do not work alone for glory,
They think more of the pay they get
Than of the smartest rhyme or story.
Each hopes some day for a fortune,
Or a rome, not large, but snug—
Where the old hen scratches
She expects to find a bug."

The affecting part of the above is the following candid postscript:

"With this number of The Post my paragraphs come to an end. 'Where the old hen scratches she expects to find a bug,' and as I have been scratching a long time and still see no signs of finding even the smallest bug, I think I had better stop. So goodby, farewell or adieu, I do not know which."

The Joys of Georgia.

I.

We've sung of the joys of old Georgia, in many a rollicking rhyme,
But joy isn't here for a morning:—it's coming in all the time!
The heaven above
Is still beaming with love,
And we're still feelin' prime, folks—we're still feelin' prime!

II.

And singing the joys of old Georgia, we sing of the homes that are sweet—
We sing of the violet-pathways, where the hearts that shall welcome us beat;
And that heaven above
That is beaming with love
The beautiful angels are glad to repeat!

Keats, Shelley and Hunt.

Mr. R. E. Lee Gibson is credited with a sonnet in Lippincott's Magazine in which the lovers of at least two great poets will rejoice. It is called "At Hampstead in 1818," and is as follows:

"Down that dim street that then was Hampstead lane,
Like common men, they went upon their way,
Three poet friends, who on a summer's day
Loved there to ramble over knoll and plain,
And hear, perhaps, the skylark's mellow strain,
The plover's note; or pluck, perhaps, a spray
Of humble bloom, whereon the dew still lay—
Pure, simple joys, for which their hearts were fain.
Yet were they destined for renown, these three;
Though one met death, despairing of his bays;
And one died young, a victim of the sea;
And one toiled out the Psalmist's span of days.
Their songs are shrined within the hearts of men;
Time has made towers of their fame since then."

Keats, Shelley and Leigh Hunt are the three poets celebrated in the sonnet; but, as a matter of fact, Shelley saw but little of Keats at that time, and did not then appreciate his genius; and as for Leigh Hunt, he does not stand with Keats and Shelley in the towers that Time has made of their fame.

MAY YOHE RELATES STRONG TALE OF WOE

May Yohe, who was the wife of Lord Hope when she eloped—if it may be called that—with Putnam Bradlee Strong, tells this story of her experience with the man who, she now says, robbed her:

"Ever since we reached Japan I have supported that man, though he kept assuring me that he possessed a fortune in his own right. I never hesitated to let him have money, and had he come to me and told me that he was in trouble, I would have willingly sold all of the jewelry which he has stolen from me to protect him. It was so unnecessary for him to have descended to theft.

"Until yesterday I believed that I loved him, but now I know him as a coward, and worse.

"It was in Yokohama that we first ran behind in our accounts. He said that he could not get money by cable, and I gave him three pieces of jewelry, and on the money he got for them we were able to leave Hong Kong in a brilliant manner. We had plenty of money to last us until we reached New York.

"On shipboard Captain Strong gambled and we reached Genoa without enough cash to 'tip' the waiter. Again I gave some jewelry to him and he came back with $1,000. Then we reached New York and had a surplus of cash.

"During all of the time that I have been with Captain Strong, only once has he ever paid one dollar toward my support. Last April he handed $250 to my mother, which money went toward the expenses of the house at Hastings. He seemed to think that he had done an act of great generosity.

"Soon after our arrival in New York he suggested that it would be better for me to have my jewels placed in a safety deposit vault. He said that they would be stolen if I kept them in the house. The coward was afraid to steal them from the house, and he took that means of getting possession of my fortune.

"I gave him the jewelry, telling him to deposit it in my name. When I asked him for the receipt he said that it was in the box and that the company required that it should be left there. Two days later he began stealing from me. We haven't traced everything taken by him, and I guess that he still has some of the jewels. We know where he pawned stuff worth $100,000, and he only got $7,100 on it.

"I trusted this genial gentleman when even the cabman at Hastings knew that he was about to desert me. He ordered eight new dresses for me, and he did not leave me the money with which to pay for them. Oh, yes, he was good to me.

"The last day that we were together he took me to Delmonico's and paid for my lunch with the money he had stolen from me. He would not let me ride through the New York Central tunnel, saying it was unsafe. He drove with me to One hundred and twenty-fifth street and stood on the platform and waved me goodby, when he had no idea of ever seeing me again.

"When I saw that the box at the trust company was empty I thought I was going to faint. I would not have done that for all of my jewels. Now I want only justice. The jewels he left me are not worth having, except the ring given to me by Lord Hope. That was inscribed: 'The world is broken, but Hope is not.' Now 'the world is broken, and so am I.' Yes, I am broken, but I will not mind that if I can have justice on that genial gentleman."

"Oh, Mazie," broke in Mrs. Yohe, "when a man gets between a man and his wife nothing good follows. Lord Hope is a gentleman, but Captain Strong is not."

"Never mind Lord Hope," replied Miss Yohe. "Lord Hope is going to marry again, and I am sure I do not wish him anything but good fortune and happiness.

"He left me two cheap fans. I suppose that was to suggest that I keep cool. I will keep cool enough. I wish I could cool him.

"It is bad cricket for a man to fawn upon a woman and profess to love her, and then steal from her. Just think! While he was caressing me and telling me that he loved me, Captain Strong was sneaking my jewels and 'soaking' them.

"Here is the ring with which we were to be married next month."

Miss Yohe exhibited a small diamond solitaire ring. On the same finger was a larger diamond. She was asked how it happened that Captain Strong left it.

"I guess he could not get it off my finger. He took about everything else that I had. You may say for me that I haven't enough left to pay a month's rent. He has robbed me, first and last, of quite $400,000. I believe that I might add another $100,000 to that sum without exaggeration."

SOUTHERN PRESS.

The Birmingham Age-Herald thinks that convict Tracy is at this moment a bigger man than J. P. Morgan.

Memphis Commercial Appeal: If Tracy is ever caught the chances are that he will be sentenced by the administration to be United States marshal of Arizona.

Charlotte News and Courier: There is ample ground for the suggestion that congress had better stop the wholesale destruction of laborers in the coal mines before it undertakes to regulate the hours of their employment in the cotton mills.

The Ripley Enterprise says of the republican platform: "The greatest piece of deceit that the republicans of Tennessee ever perpetrated was the placing of a prohibition plank in their state platform. Who ever heard of a prohibition-republican, anyway?"

Chattanooga News: The Virginia constitutional convention adopted a law prohibiting state officers from accepting a free pass from a railroad. It is the general belief that some friend of the old constitution had the clause inserted for the purpose of defeating the new instrument entirely. At any rate, it is liable to do the work for the new organic law.

Montgomery Advertiser: The Advertiser expected to publish clippings from the papers of the state showing how the action of the executive committee in ordering a state primary had been received. It can be stated in a few words, that there is almost universal commendation of the primary plan. The few that dissent give their hearty support toward making the new departure a success. The rules and regulations are a well drawn that there can be no mistaking the desire to give democrats the opportunity of expressing their choice and of having a perfectly fair election. We believe that this result will be achieved and that the party will be thoroughly satisfied.

Chattanooga Times: The main, and in fact the only, defect in the Alabama primary election law is that it requires the successful candidate to first secure a majority of all the votes cast, which, in a case of a number of candidates, might necessitate two and possibly three or four elections. The primary law ought not to require more than the state election law, which is that the candidate receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. Under the plan adopted by the Alabama state democratic executive committee the greater part of the year will be taken up by the people in voting.

Savannah News: No more married men need apply for commissions in the United States army. The secretary has issued an order providing that hereafter no applicant in civil life shall be examined for appointment as second lieutenant unless between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-seven, and unmarried. CARTER GRANTED PARDON; GOOD INSURANCE SHOWING

Governor Candler yesterday granted a pardon to Willis Carter, who has served more than four years in the penitentiary, on the ground that the man may be innocent of the crime of which he was convicted.

Carter was convicted of robery at the May term of Muscogee superior court, and sentenced to serve fifteen years in the penitentiary. The prison commission, after a careful review of the evidence in the case, says that it is doubtful whether the identity of Carter as the man who committed the crime has been established. All of the members of the jury which tried him now express doubt of his guilt, and this view is also taken by the prosecutor and the attorneys for the prosecution.

In view of these facts, and because the man had previously borne a good character, and has at all times stoutly maintained his innocence, the commission recommended commutation of sentence to the time already served.

Carter has been an exemplary prisoner. The prison officials believe there are good grounds to doubt his guilt.

Comptroller General Wright as commissioner of insurance, has had printed as a leaflet, for distribution among insurance men and other inquirers, a statement showing the amount of business done in Georgia by the different companies. This covers the several classes of insurance done in the state—life, fire, marine, guarantee, steam boiler and accident. The figures show a decided increase as compared with last year.

The statement covers the year ending April 30. Fire risks taken for the year aggregated $213,720,426. The gross premiums received were $3,002,651; the losses paid amounted to $1,379,395.

The life companies wrote new insurance aggregating $38,035,099. The gross premium paid on this amounted to $346,473. The gross premiums on old insurance still in force was $3,058,869, making a total of premiums collected of $4,251,763.

The total amount of losses paid during the year was $1,639,984. Life insurance in force in Georgia aggregates $132,910,857.

Assessment or cooperative companies wrote insurance to the amount of $2,705,476. The total amount of insurance of this kind is $4,848,391, upon which premiums were received amounting to $188,524.

The amount of insurance done by guarantee, accident, marine, steam boiler and plate-glass companies in Georgia during the year was $100,201,212. The amount of premiums paid for this was $355,940. Amount of losses paid $183,792.

Comptroller General Wright was notified yesterday that Hon. J. G. Strickland, of Athens, has been selected as umpire in the arbitration over Southern railway taxation. Judge Spencer Atkinson represents the state and Hon. Howard Thompson the railroad company. For some time they were unable to agree upon an umpire, but finally selected Mr. Strickland. They are to have a meeting in the office of the railroad commission on Friday of this week.

NORTH CAROLINA RURAL SCHOOLS

Third Series of Great Rallies in Interest of Education at Hickory.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS INVITED TO PARTICIPATE

Under Auspices of Southern Education Aid Association — New Buildings for Agricultural College—Industrial Development.

Raleigh, N. C., July 23.—(Special.)—The third of the series of great rallies in the interest of the rural public schools is to be held at Hickory, August 7, and many prominent speakers will be there.

This great rally will be under the auspices of the Southern Education Aid Association. Ex-Governor Jarvis, Governor Aycock, Dr. McIver, Professor Joyner, Dr. G. T. Winston and other thought leaders will direct matters.

New Buildings Needed.

The State Agricultural and Mechanical college trustees will ask the legislature to make a special appropriation of $40,000 for a separate plant of agricultural buildings, on a site a quarter of a mile from the present college buildings.

The idea is to separate in this way the agricultural and the mechanical departments. Should this be done, all the present buildings would be used for the mechanical department. The tendency is to go into mechanical courses of study far more than in agricultural, and the new trustees are trying in all possible ways to remedy this and make the two departments as near even as possible. To this end they have doubled the number of agricultural free scholarships. Even yet the disproportion continues, though not nearly so great as it was two years ago.

Corporation Taxes.

The corporation commission has completed its assessment for taxation of all the property of common carriers in this state. It is as follows: Atlantic Coast Line railway, $13,798,440; Seaboard Air Line, $8,712,728; Southern, $15,822,677; miscellaneous railways, $3,966,520; Pullman cars, $180,205; telegraph companies, $905,140; express companies, $225,770; telephone companies, $389,484; street railways, $1,194,590; electric light and gas companies, $159,010; water works, $230,485; steamboats, $236,300. Grand total, $46,029,840.

The assessment of the street railways in the state was made today, the valuations being as follows: Wilmington, $253,000; Charlotte, $235,000; Winston, $250,000; Asheville, $224,000; Durham, $125,000; Greensboro, $62,500; Raleigh, $40,000.

Industrial Development.

The industrial development of the state is more rapid this year than last. There is an increase in the number of corporations chartered. The price of a charter is now based on the amount of capital stock, and this yields a much larger revenue. Today charters were granted the Red Cross Remedy and Medicine Company, of Wilmington; the Elizabeth City Hosiery Company and the Peerless Mattress Company, of Lexington.

Mrs. Martha Haywood died at her home here yesterday, aged 91. She was one of Raleigh's three oldest residents. Her maiden name was Whitaker, and she was from Tennessee. She was the relict of the late Dr. Fabius J. Haywood, of this city.

FELL UNDER CAR; HEAD IS CUT OFF

J. H. Harris Attempts To Board Train and Meets Death.

GOVERNOR JOHNSTON WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN

First Gun Will Be Fired in Montgomery Tonight—Court of Inquiry Postponed — Other News from Capital of Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., July 23.—(Special.)—J. M. Harris, a mechanic, attempting to jump on a passenger train here today, to save a few hundred yards on his way to his work, was jerked under the train and his head cut off as clean and smooth as if a razor had been used.

He was formerly of Louisville and has a sister—Mrs. Wheeler—living at Thomasville, Ga. He has two brothers and a sister at Louisville. He worked for the Conecuh Pine Lumber Company.

Johnston's Campaign.

The opening of former Governor Johnston's campaign here Thursday night, the 24th, is to be enlivened by the presence of Mr. Waller, candidate for lieutenant governor, who is running in alliance with the ex-governor. Mr. Waller will speak at the meeting.

Court of Inquiry.

The court of inquiry into the trouble at the encampment of the Second regiment at Selma has been postponed until the 28th of August. It was thought best to wait until politics simmer down.

Jelks Opens Headquarters.

Governor Jelks has opened his headquarters for this county in the Exchange hotel in the same room where Jefferson Davis stopped when he came here to be inaugurated, and again when he paid his last visit in 1886. The rooms have been the headquarters of some candidate in every campaign since the house was built over fifty years ago. The Johnston rooms have not been selected, but both sides are getting ready to fight over Montgomery county as desperately as if it were to decide the issue.

Jowers Is Pardoned.

The governor today pardoned Josephus Jowers, a murderer who had been heretofore paroled. He had observed his parole a long time and is rewarded. Bruce Hayes, in for assault to murder, was pardoned because the petitions were overwhelming.

GRIP COSTS HIM RIGHT HAND.

Captain McClanahan Is Maimed from a Novel Cause.

Des Moines, July 23.—Captain J. N. McClanahan, a prominent politician of Corydon and ex-grand master of the Masonic order of Iowa, has lost his right hand from the effects of a handshake with a friend. The grip received was so hard that several of the small bones were broken and afterwards caused a cancerous growth. Amputation became necessary and the operation has been performed.

Democrats Name McGraw.

Piedmont, W. Va., July 23.—The democrats of the second district nominated John T. McGraw, of Grafton, for congress today. McGraw was defeated by Dayton four years ago. The platform denounces Dayton for his stand against Schley's recognition by congress.

THIRD DISTRICT MASONS.

SECOND ANNUAL COMMUNICATION CALLED TO ORDER.

Welcomed to Americus by Judge James Hixson—Royal Barbecue at Magnolia Dell.

Americus, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—The second annual communication of Masons for the third congressional district was held here today. The convention was called to order this afternoon with 200 delegates in attendance.

Judge James Hixson delivered the address of welcome, to which an eloquent response was made by Hon. Walter Stead, of Taylor county.

Grand Master Max Meyerhardt is expected to arrive tomorrow and will preside throughout the session. Considerable routine work was transacted this afternoon, the Leesburg lodge conferring degrees.

This Masonic body is duly organized as the third district convention of Georgia Masons, and has a very large membership. Hon. U. V. Whipple, of Dooly, is permanent president.

After the Masonic work is concluded tomorrow morning the members will be regaled with a royal barbecue at Magnolia Dell.

Hobson Is A-Courting.

Bloomington, Ills., July 23.—(Special.)—Captain Hobson is again in Bloomington visiting the daughter of former Vice President Stevenson. The announcement of the betrothal is expected in the fall.

NEGROES PLOT TO MURDER.

THEY ARE ARRESTED BY POLICE OF ATHENS.

Intended To Kill and Rob Two White Men—Great Fair Will Be Held This Fall.

Athens, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—A plot to kill two white men, members of the bridge gang of the Seaboard railway stationed at Athens, was unearthed by the police this morning and two negroes—Reuben Davis and Lem Wier—have been arrested charged with being the instigators of the plot.

The plot to kill was mainly made up on the assistant foreman of the gang, J. R. Hemerick, who has charge of the commissary department. Hemerick is in the habit of carrying upon his person large sums of money and he and the foreman, C. L. Wood, are accustomed to walk each night from their cars across the trestle of the Seaboard at Pulaski street and come over to the station and spend the evening.

Tuesday night the two negroes with two others were to kill the men and take the money and skip. But the two latter negroes failed to join the gang and the plot was broken up.

The negroes will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Elkes Defeats Champion.

Providence, R. I., July 23.—Harry Elkes won a 25-mile motor paced race from Albert Champion at the coliseum here tonight by 115 yards, his time being 35:19 4-5, the fastest mile being the seventh, which Elkes rode in 1:20 1-5.

COMMITTEE WILL TURN ON LIGHT

Persistent Rumors in Regard to Oakland Cemetery Affairs Cause Investigation

CHAIRMAN HARWELL HAS CALLED A MEETING

Committee Will Meet This Morning and Decide Upon Method of Procedure—City Not To Blame for Individual Speculation.

The cemetery committee of the general council will hold a meeting this morning to investigate the rumors that have been afloat in regard to the selling of lots a second time.

The committee holds that if such sales have been made it has been done without the knowledge of the committee and has been done by past administrations. Councilman Harwell, who is chairman of the committee, said in regard to the matter yesterday:

"The first of the year we sold one lot, and, that being all there was to sell, we went out of business. We have not made or approved any sales since that time. If lots have been resold it comes from the fact that individuals have been speculating in them and the fact that past administrations have not kept the correct records. It is, of course, impossible for us to prevent individuals who have bought and paid for lots in the cemetery from selling them to others, but if bodies have been moved without the proper authority we can find it out and punish the guilty. This the committee will do, and we will see how much is in the sensation that has been sprung."

When the committee meets today it will either make a thorough investigation or arrange for the manner of holding one. It is said that the city has not sold the same lot twice, but that individuals may have resold lots. The city sexton has nothing to do with the sale of lots except to show them to purchasers, and as he can neither state the price of a lot nor make the deed to one it would be impossible for him to sell one the second time. City Sexton Barfield has called attention to this fact in a card, and it is not thought that he will be held to blame for any irregularities that may arise. It was rumored about the city hall that city officials have been trading in cemetery lots, but there has been no specific accusation and no one seems to know who the accused parties are. All kinds of stories have been afloat, and the cemetery committee is determined to clear up the whole matter and to let nothing remain that reflects on the city's management of the cemetery. Whatever turns up, the whole public will be made acquainted with the facts, and if anything has happened in the past that needs correction, steps will be immediately taken to adjust the whole matter.

GRANT PARK CAGES ARE FULL.

Ocelots, Golden Babboon and Handsome Birds Have Been Added to the Zoo.

Every cage of the zoo at Grant park is now occupied and the menagerie is at present in a more flourishing condition than it has been for a long time. Two ocelots, which are very much like leopards, but smaller, were received from Mexico several days ago. A golden babboon, one of the few of its kind in this section of the country, was added to the collection of animals Tuesday, while two spider monkeys, macaws and parrots have also been placed in cages which have long been empty.

Despite the fact that council has failed to give the board of park commissioners funds with which to keep up the zoo, the board has managed, by strict economy, to save enough money out of its meager appropriation to purchase the animals and birds that have been added to the menagerie. Colonel W. T. Moyers, chairman of the park board, has given much of his time to the work of securing new specimens for the zoo and his endeavors have been ably seconded by the other members of the board.

At the Aragon.

The following were among the arrivals at the Aragon yesterday: Hon. T. W. Hardwick and family, Sandersville; H. G. Curtis and wife, Brunswick; Jake Wells and wife, Richmond; Mrs. G. S. Wells, Richmond; Charles H. Scott, Richmond; O. H. King, Marietta, Ga.; H. H. Preston, Eastman, Ga.; D. A. Holmes, Columbus, Ga.; W. H. Bennick, Bainbridge, Ga.; David Funston, Richmond, Va.; W. G. Hutchins, Savannah, Ga.

The New Director at Brenau.

For the past ten or fifteen years the very highest and best musical advantages have been given young ladies attending Brenau Conservatory at Gainesville, Ga. Professors Van Hoose and Pearce have a high ideal as to what constitutes a really great school of music and have never faltered in their determination to give to the girls of Georgia the highest musical advantages. They have secured for the next year the services of Mr. Otto Pfefferkorn as director of the Conservatory. Mr. Pfefferkorn is one of the great musicians of the day. He recently gave two recitals in the auditorium of Brenau, where some of the greatest artists of the day have been heard, and it was the unanimous opinion of all who heard him that he equal had never been heard in Gainesville. It was after hearing him play that the management of the college decided that he must be added to Brenau's faculty. The catalogue of the school contains full particulars of this distinguished musician and will be sent upon application to any address. Write Professor A. W. Van Hoose, Gainesville, Ga.

MOTHER SURRENDERS CHILD

Mrs. Osborn Asks That Her Boy Be Sent to Home for Friendless.

MOTHER IS ON DEATH BED

She Has No Money or Food and No Medicine with Which To Check the Disease.

A pathetic story developed in police court yesterday afternoon, when Recorder Broyles ordered Morgan Osborn, a 7-year-old boy, sent to the Home for the Friendless.

This was done at the request of the mother of the child, Mrs. Kate Osborn, of 84½ South Forsyth street. Mrs. Osborn is prostrate on a bed of sickness, consumption having taken hold on her system. Alone in her room with no one to care for her, and without medicine, she is in destitute circumstances and in a pitiable condition.

Fully realizing her situation and considering the welfare of her only child, the sick woman requested that he be placed in the Home for the Friendless temporarily, until she becomes able to care for him. Morgan, a pretty blue-eyed boy, was in court yesterday afternoon and the request of his mother was conveyed to the recorder by Policeman Gloer, who had investigated the case. The mother was unable to appear in court.

Policeman Gloer states that Dr. Bridwell, the first ward physician, has been attending Mrs. Osborn and has twice furnished her medicine. He says the physician informed him, however, that the city does not provide medicine for the treatment of consumption.

After hearing the story Recorder Broyles remarked:

"Well, the Home for the Friendless will be the best place for the child. I will send him there temporarily, as his mother requests, and when she becomes able to care for him she can take him out."

IN THE COURTS.

Goes Up for Ten Years.

Before Judge Foster, in the criminal division of the superior court, yesterday afternoon, Jacob Ramur, colored, was declared guilty on the charge of attempted criminal assault and was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

The negro pleaded not guilty and asserted that it was certainly a case of mistaken identity. The crime was alleged to have occurred June 12, and the plaintiff identified Ramur as being the man who attempted the assault. The jury was out only a short while. Police Commissioner S. W. Day was foreman of the jury.

Guilty of Stabbing.

James L. Strong, colored, who was charged with assaulting his wife with intent to murder her, pleaded guilty to stabbing in the criminal division of the superior court yesterday afternoon and was ordered to pay a fine of $100 and costs or go to the county chaingang for a year.

Sues for Hack and Horse.

In the city court yesterday Carry Cox, through her attorney, R. J. Jordan, filed suit against the city for $240 damages for alleged injuries to a hack and horse which, she claimed, fell into a hole on Clarke street. She says the accident occurred March 29 and that both vehicle and animal were injured. A claim for the amount was filed with the city council and was refused.

Object to the Will.

G. W. Crawford, William Murphey and Fannie Dorsey have filed objection to the probating of the alleged will of Serena Murphey. They claim the instrument filed in the ordinary's office as the will of the old negress was not her will. They assert that at the time this will was supposed to have been made the Murphey woman was an imbecile and not in a mental condition to make such a document. The old woman several years ago received a large amount of money from the government as back pension money. Attorney R. J. Jordan represents the caveators.

Says Pipe Fell on Him.

Through his attorney, E. S. Lumpkin, Jim Dozier yesterday filed suit in the city court against the city of Atlanta for $1,000 damages for alleged personal injuries, said to have been received March 5 while he was employed by the city to unload water mains on Whitehall street. He says that on the day mentioned he was at work and that one of the mains fell on him and seriously injured him.

Wants Note Held Up.

Alleging that J. B. Eubank deceived him about the number of acres in two parcels of land which he purchased November 16, 1900, C. A. Jamison, through his attorneys, Napier & Cox, yesterday filed proceedings in the superior court to prevent Eubanks from selling or disposing of a note for $500 which, he says, he gave in part payment for the land. He also asks that the court permit him to establish the exact acreage of the property and that he be allowed to pay for it at the rate of $10 an acre which, he says, was the amount originally agreed upon. Judge Foster issued a temporary restraining order and set a hearing of the case for the morning of September 6 before Judge Lumpkin.

Will Make Perfumery.

Application was made yesterday to the superior court for a charter for the Atlanta Pharmacol Company. The incorporators are C. S. Morse, H. Preiss and R. F. Watson, all of Fulton county. The enterprise is to be capitalized at $5,000, which amount is to be divided into shares of $10 each. Permission to increase the capital stock to $50,000 at any time deemed proper by the stockholders is asked in the petition. The company is to be organized for the purpose of manufacturing drugs, non-secret preparations, perfumery and all manner of articles usually handled by pharmacies. The incorporators are represented by Attorney S. B. Townes.

Aged Deed Is Filed.

A deed made fifty-one years ago was filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of the superior court for record. The present owner has had the document in his safe for nearly twenty years. The deed was executed at a time when Fulton county was not known. DeKalb county then embraced a large area of land in this immediate section. The deed conveyed lots on Thompson, Garnett and Forsyth streets from Avery Peacock, James T. Peacock, Merit J. Peacock, James Kenny, Daniel W. Peacock, Thomas I. Peacock by his guardian, Avery Peacock; Lewis P. Peacock by his guardian, James T. Peacock, and Peyton A. Peacock by his guardian, Thomas A. Kenny, to Thomas W. Connally and Charles W. Connally for $1,300. The document, which was dated October 27, 1851, shows its age and is torn in several places where it has been folded.

Property Transfers.

The following property transfers were filed for record in the office of the clerk of the superior court yesterday:

Willis M. Everett to Dr. C. F. Benson, lot 100 by 150 on South Boulevard, $975.

Charles S. Baer to Edward O. Miles, lot 93 by 700 on West Lake avenue, $400.

S. L. Wallace to Mrs. Mary T. Scott, lot 41 by 100 on Fillmore street, to secure a loan of $200.

Miss Lizzie McColgan to J. B. Aldrich, lot 255 by 150 on the Mason and Turner's ferry road, $50.

BRIDE IN TEARS AS HER STORY IS TOLD

Weeping and Sobbing, Mrs. Prease Asks Police Assistance.

MARRIED ONLY TWO MONTHS

While Wife Did Husband's Work He Packed His Belongings and Departed—Left His Bride Without Money and Destitute.

Sobbing and crying bitterly, a pretty young woman, a bride of only two months, walked into the police station last night about 8 o'clock and asked the assistance of the police in locating her husband. Between spells of weeping the young woman informed the officers that he deserted her yesterday afternoon.

The young woman is Mrs. W. H. Prease, of 705 Chestnut street. She was married to Prease on May 23, just two months ago yesterday. The story she related of her husband's unfaithfulness was touching and pathetic and aroused sympathy for her among those who heard it. While relating the story she wept constantly and was frequently compelled to stop until she could regain her composure.

Prease and his wife have both been employed at the Exposition cotton mills, but for the past seven weeks Mrs. Prease has been unable to work on account of illness. The wife says she only left her bed a few days ago. According to the woman's story, Prease drew his wages yesterday and while she was operating his loom in the mill for him, at his request, he packed his belongings and took his departure. She says he left no word whatever as to his reasons or intentions.

Story of the Woman.

The following is the story of the young woman:

"My husband and I were married on May 23 and since that time have lived happily together. There has not been a cross word between us, and I can assign no reason for his desertion. I have been sick for seven weeks and have been up only during the past few days. Yesterday afternoon he told me to run his loom in the mill, as he desired to go to town.

"I did as he requested, never suspecting anything wrong. When I returned home, after the mill closed, I was astonished to find that he had removed all of his clothing and effects from the house. He never left any note or word as to why he left or where he was going. He drew his money yesterday, but never gave me a nickel. I haven't a cent of money and did not have a stick of wood with which to cook supper."

ASSAILANT STILL AT LARGE.

No Clew to Negro Who Attempted Assault—One Negro Arrested, but Released.

The negro who attempted an assault Tuesday night on Miss Margaret Hoyle is still at large, despite the efforts of officers of the law to apprehend him.

Pursuant to instructions from Chief of County Police Turner, a negro who has been seen loafing in North Atlanta was arrested yesterday afternoon on suspicion. He was carried before Miss Hoyle, but she declared he was not the guilty party. The negro was accordingly released.

No clew, however, has been obtained as to the identity or whereabouts of the assailant. The officers are still working on the case, however, and hope to be able to catch the negro.

DELOACH RESTING WELL.

Showed Improvement Yesterday, and Physician Believes He May Now Recover.

The condition of H. H. DeLoach, who was shot Monday afternoon by Thomas Smithson, was reported last night as being about the same as on the night previous.

The wounded man rested very well last night and Dr. Floyd W. McRae, the attending physician, stated that he showed some improvement yesterday. Dr. McRae says he believes DeLoach will recover, if his condition improves during the next few days as it did yesterday, although it will be at least a week before he is out of danger.

Moorse Accused of Forgery.

Baltimore, Md., July 23.—Chief of Police Johnson, of Newport News, left tonight for that city, having in charge Frederick Moore, who was arrested here on the charge of forgery. Complainant in the case is W. M. Parker, Moore's partner in business. The prisoner stated today that he had signed three notes, aggregating $400, using the name of Moore & Parker. He said he had intended to pay up in a few days, but the arrest forestalled his intention.

SAVE YOUR STOMACH.

The condition of the stomach bears the same relation to one's health that the foundation does to the house. Without a good foundation, the house cannot stand. Without a good stomach, the health must fail.

Digestion will make and indigestion will break the walls of the stomach. Perfect digestion will build and sustain, while poor digestion will tear down health's foundation. The reason for this is that the stomach must receive and prepare all food for entrance into the blood, and from the blood into the tissues. If the stomach is not in perfect condition, the nourishment will be improperly prepared—imperfectly digested, and, instead of the health-giving and strength-increasing properties of the food being contributed to the tissues, stagnation ensues, the blood becomes impoverished and poison is forced into the system.

The weakest organ of the body gets most of this poison, because, for want of strength, it is less able to resist it, and, as a consequence, disease begins to show itself first in one of the weak organs, which is usually a very important one. It may be the lungs, liver, kidneys or heart, and in the case of women it may be one of the organs peculiar to their sex. Such symptoms as shortness of breath, coated tongue, pains in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, fullness after eating, bowel complaint, ulcers in the mouth, sallow complexion, constipation, diarrhoea, dysentery and sour belching are all symptoms of indigestion.

Kodol relieves every symptom of indigestion and restores the stomach and digestive organs to perfect health. This famous remedy has effected a permanent cure in thousands of cases of chronic dyspepsia, as well as ulceration of the stomach and other serious stomach diseases.

Kodol represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with tonic and reconstructive properties. It is absolutely harmless, perfectly palatable, never doing harm, always doing good.

ASSAULTED AND ROBBED

Ed Morgan, a Negro, Arrested for Attacking John Humphries.

HEAVY WEAPON WAS USED

Assault Occurred Saturday Night While Humphries Was En Route Home from Atlanta.

Ed Morgan, a negro, was arrested and locked in the police station yesterday on the charge of having assaulted and robbed John Humphries, a white man, in Henry county, near the Fulton county line, Saturday night.

Morgan was arrested by Call Officers Covington and Chandler after a clever piece of work. The negro was taken to Henry county last night, where he will be tried on the charge of highway robbery.

Humphries was in Atlanta Saturday and early in the night started in his wagon to return home. A friend accompanied Humphries, and Morgan, who was acquainted with Humphries, asked permission to ride in the wagon. The request was complied with and the trio started out into the country.

After proceeding several miles the friend left the wagon to go to his home, Humphries and Morgan continuing. Humphries failed to reach his home that night, and the next morning he was found in an unconscious condition on the road a quarter of a mile from his home. He had been struck on the head with some heavy instrument, believed to have been a sand bag. It is not known how much money was taken.

As soon as the details of the assault were learned a search for Morgan was begun. The police received information yesterday morning that he was in Atlanta, and Officers Covington and Chandler went out to look for him. After searching for nearly three hours they finally located the negro in a house at 2 Chestnut avenue and placed him under arrest. Morgan protests his innocence and declares that he had nothing whatever to do with the robbery.

The injury received by Humphries was not serious and he is able to be out.

RABBI TO TOUR THE WORLD.

Prominent Hebrew Divine To Investigate the Condition of His Race.

Rev. Dr. Browne, rabbi of the Jewish synagogue at Columbus, Ga., passed through the city yesterday, starting on a trip around the world.

The special object of the rabbi's tour of the globe is to investigate the present condition of the Hebrews in their various homes and to make a special study of their respective histories from the remotest times up to the present.

Dr. Browne will also pay special attention to the progress Zionism has made the world over.

It will be remembered that five years ago, when the Zionist movement was started, Dr. Browne was the only American invited by the Zionist committee and Dr. Herzle to visit the congress in Basil. The rabbi expects to experience much pleasure in the study of this world-wide movement among the Jews.

Dr. Browne is accompanied on the tour by Mrs. Browne. He will be gone on the trip a year.

MULLER'S BID ACCEPTED.

Work of Improvement at the Postoffice Will Begin Immediately.

The supervising architect at Washington reported favorably yesterday on the plans for improvement at the Atlanta postoffice and accepted the bid of George W. Muller to do the work.

Since the department at Washington has made a favorable report there is nothing to hinder the immediate beginning of the work.

Mr. Muller will begin the improvements without delay, so that in a short time the congested condition of the postoffice will be relieved.

The officials are anxious for the work to be done, as they say they are hampered on account of the crowded condition and the public is put to much inconvenience.

Tate Spring, Tenn., is now enjoying a splendid crowd of elegant people. It is generally conceded that there are more pretty women and handsome men there than ever known, and Charley's band furnishes the quality of music that all enjoy. 7-22 3t

THOMAS SCALES MADE PRESIDENT

Officers Elected by Federation of Trades Last Night.

WILLIAM STRAUSS IS OUT

Veteran Financial Secretary of the Federation Declines Reelection. Scales Succeeds William Bridwell—Race for President Was Exciting.

The semi-annual election of officers was the occasion of a large and interesting meeting of the Federation of Trades at Federation hall last night.

Thomas N. Scales, of the Bartenders' Union, was elected president for the ensuing term, over Harry Morgan, of the carpeiters. The race for president was quite a close one and for a time there was much excitement, though the best of feeling prevailed. Scales won over Morgan by only five votes. Over 120 votes were cast.

The other officers were elected without contest. The new president succeeds William Bridwell, who has been president for the last six months. He did not offer for reelection.

William Strauss, of the tailors, who for years has been financial secretary of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, last night positively refused reelection, much to the regret of the federation. He has served long and faithfully and the delegates all wanted to retain him as an officer of the federation.

The full list of officers elected is as follows: President, Thomas N. Scales, of the bartenders; vice president, R. T. Brown, of the barbers; secretary, R. O. Ross, of the printers; financial secretary, T. D. Johnson, of the pressmen; treasurer, Luke Bradley, of the stonecutters; sergeant at arms, Charles Hirsch, of the brewers; finance committee, Mike Riley, L. A. Holly and William Van Houten.

MUSIC, ART, ELOCUTION,

As Accomplishments and Vocations for Young Women.

No branches of learning are more desirable for a girl, whether they be brought into requisition in the home, in society or in the school room. They insure choice associations, and, if necessary, remunerative employment and independence in life.

These specialties of a woman's education receive at the Southern Female College, College Park, Ga., the attention which their importance justifies. In the music department there are seven teachers for the various branches, while the equipment includes forty-six pianos, pipe organ and orchestral outfit. Interest in the study is enhanced by the orchestra, choral union, mandolin and guitar club and musical societies. The art department is in charge of Miss Mamie Holifield, a teacher of large success. The studios are liberally supplied with casts and other models, although most of the work is done from nature. The elocution department is in charge of a graduate of Emerson College of Oratory, she being especially recommended by that institution for this place. For catalogue address President Charles C. Cox, College Park, Ga.

NEW BAND AND ORCHESTRA.

Big Musical Organization Is Planned by Atlanta Citizens.

The largest and most complete musical organization ever planned in the south is soon to be incorporated in Atlanta. Some of the most prominent men in the city will be directors and stockholders of the organization.

The band will probably number as many as sixty-five pieces and will be under the direction of J. P. Matthiessen, of Philadelphia, assisted by P. B. Willhoit, of Knoxville.

The management of the organization will be in the hands of E. W. Dutton, who is well known as a manager of bands throughout this section.

It is possible that the new band will enlist in the First regiment of state cavalry, but if this is not carried out it will be known strictly as an Atlanta organization.

In getting up an organization of such magnitude it is the purpose of those interested to import several musicians in order to give the south the best band that it is possible to organize.

If Mr. Dutton takes the management of the new band it will be immediately unionized and run under the rules and regulations of that organization.

Oldest Potter Is Dead.

East Liverpool, Ohio, July 23.—Isaac Knowles aged 83, died at the home of his son in California today. He was the oldest living manufacturing potter and was vice president and a director of the Knowles-Taylor pottery. He built the first pottery here in 1854. He invented the circus calliope, lettered playing blocks for children and many labor-saving devices used in potteries.

Reduced Prices On "Broken Lots."

The natural result of heavy sales in a store where a large variety of styles are carried is that some sizes will sell better than others. As there is no way to tell what sizes we will sell the most of, we put in a good assortment of each size. The consequence is that we have lots in which all the small sizes sell first; others in which all the medium or large ones sell first, these leavings of popular sellers we call "broken lots," and to sell the other sizes we reduce prices considerably. We've "broken lots" of Men's and Boys' Suits, Shoes and Hats which are attractive for the low price alone—not considering quality, which you know is the best, coming from us. Reduced prices in our Tailoring Department, too.

$20.00 Panamas for $10.00

Miss Hawkins to Edit Society Department

THE society department has come to be such an important feature of any paper that almost the first question asked after the announcement of a new paper is made is the significant one, "Who is to have charge of the society department?"

The editor of The Atlanta News has announced that the editor of the society department of that paper, to make its first appearance in August, is Miss Annie Louise Hawkins, one of Atlanta's most prominent young society women and one who has previously demonstrated her abilities to cope with the trials of newspaper work.

That Miss Hawkins was selected from an army of applicants, including women of experience, talent and enterprise, indicates the excellent record she made when during the existence of The Atlanta Daily News she assisted in the society department.

Miss Hawkins is bright, pretty and of amiable and charming manner. She represents two of Georgia's oldest families and is related to the most prominent people in the state. She will have as her assistant Miss Bessie Shaw, who is recognized as one of the most popular young women in the social world and one of unquestioned ability.

MRS. WILSON TALKS OF NATIONAL CONFERENCE

MRS. A. McD. WILSON.

ATTENDANCE upon the national conference of the Young Women's Christian Association at Lake George Mrs. A. McD. Wilson calls one of the most interesting features of an extensive northern trip she has just returned from enjoying.

"It was fortunate in every way that Lake George should be the scene of the conference," said Mrs. Wilson yesterday in an account of her trip. "I thought it the most beautiful place I visited in the course of a tour of the lake country of the east and Canada. The lake itself is long and broad and its waters so clear that the fish may be seen many feet in its depth, and it mirrors woods and shrubbery that extend down to the water's edge from mountains that quite surround it. Silver bay is one of its best features, and at the hotel there the conference was held, with an attendance so large that a division into two sections was necessary, the city section assembling two weeks after the college section. Six hundred and fifty young women formed the latter and over four hundred members made the former. Some of the colleges sent as many as fifty, sixty and seventy delegates, and in all of the assembly there was a remarkable, splendid enthusiasm, combining the college spirit and the spirit of the work.

"The principal difference between this assembly and the southern conference was in their relative sizes. The southern conference was larger this year than ever before. It numbered over two hundred. In the smaller assembly was one great advantage, however, and that was that the individual young woman was more easily reached. The same leaders and speakers conduct both northern and southern conferences, but on account of its greater bulk, the girls of the northern conference cannot be given the same deep spiritual impressions that it is possible to bestow upon the southern girls, and I think that on this account the spiritual education of the southern girls will progress even more rapidly than that of her northern sisters, who have been longer engaged upon the same work.

"The members of the conference of city associations were, as a rule, older women than those of the college section, but in both was to be observed the same earnestness of purpose, both as individual workers and collectively, and the same strong spiritual impulse to guide it that is making the success of this Christian work wherever it has been undertaken."

The rapid growth here of the city work of the Young Women's Christian Association makes unusually interesting Mrs. Wilson's account of the national conference.

During the absence of Mrs. Hoke Smith, Mrs. Frank Inman is acting president of the Young Women's Christian Association of Atlanta, and each day the rest rooms and restaurant become more popular.

SEEKS FORECLOSURE ON MINE

George Mills Asks Court To Settle Mortgage.

VALUABLE MINE INVOLVED

Petitioner Claims That Terms of Loan To Georgia Woman Have Not Been Carried Out.

A petition was filed with the clerk of the United States circuit court yesterday by George Edward Mills, of New York, praying the foreclosure of a mortgage against Mrs. Eugenia Cobb Lowe, of Rome, on valuable manganese mines and mining lands in Polk county. The amount which the petitioner seeks to recover is $10,000.

The petitioner prays the court to appoint a receiver to take charge of the mines, as he claims the property is daily depreciating in value, and that Mrs. Lowe be restrained from the use of the property.

It is claimed in the petition that on December 10, 1901, Mr. Mills loaned Mrs. Lowe the amount of $10,000, for which four notes were given of $2,500 each, to fall due in six, twelve, eighteen and twenty-four months, respectively. It was expressly understood that "time was the essence of the contract," and consequently provided that in the event any one of the notes or the interest thereon became overdue the holder could foreclose the mortgage and require the payment of the entire amount.

It is further claimed in the petition that the first note and interest thereon has been due since June 10, 1902, and that Mrs. Lowe has refused to pay either.

The petition prays that the court set a time limit as to when the mortgage shall be paid, and in the event the debt is not paid at or by the time set that the property be sold and the amount realized from the sale be appropriated as follows: First, to the payment of the costs in the case, including the expense of sale and the receiver's compensation; second, the principal and interest on the notes and 10 per cent attorney's fees; third, that the surplus, if any, be disposed of according to the order and decree of the court.

A writ of subpena has been served commanding Mrs. Lowe to appear before the clerk of the United States circuit court at Rome and answer the bill.

The petition was filed by Joel Branham and King & Spalding, attorneys for Mr. Mills.

This puts us in line to serve you better than any one else can. Say, for instance, you want a Pocket Knife and come to us for it, we offer you 500 patterns, including all the best brands, to select from. If it's a Razor you want we offer you the same advantage, and if you buy a Boker, we give you a guarantee with it. If it happens to be a set of Carvers you want, we are the people you are looking for, for just at this time we are making some special prices on a fine line of these goods.

Our Mr. Webb, who is in charge of this department, and who is one of the best cutlery men in the country, will take pleasure in aiding you in the selection of a Razor or Knife and see that you are promptly served otherwise.

RAPID DECLINE IN "MOONSHINING"

Report of Internal Revenue Agent Gates Gives Interesting Figures.

OFFICERS DO GOOD WORK

"Mountain Dew" Makers Are Beginning To Realize That It Does Not Pay To Make Whisky Without Uncle Sam's Permission.

Internal Revenue Agent D. A. Gates made his annual report to the government yesterday. The report is interesting from the fact that it shows the number of illicit distilleries seized and destroyed in Georgia, Alabama and Florida during the year ending June 30, 1902, the amount of illicit whisky seized and the amount of unpaid taxes discovered by the revenue collectors. The last named item included not only taxes on whisky, but all articles that are liable to internal revenue taxation.

The report shows that there has been a decided decrease in illicit distilling during the year just past. The total number of stills destroyed in Georgia during the year ending June 30, 1901, was 724. The total number destroyed during the year ending June 30, 1902, was 631. A difference of 83.

The amount of illicit whisky seized in Georgia during the year ending June 30, 1901, was 8,904 gallons. The amount seized during the year ending June 30, 1902, was 6,680 1-2 gallons; a difference of 2,223 1-2 gallons.

The report in full is as follows:

The number of illicit distilleries destroyed:

	GA.	ALA.	FLA.
July, 1901	26	6	0
August, 1901	86	9	0
September, 1901	27	4	0
October, 1901	44	4	2
November, 1901	72	8	0
December, 1901	63	8	9
January, 1902	68	17	18
February, 1902	54	11	7
March, 1902	49	8	3
April, 1902	48	9	6
May, 1902	48	8	0
June, 1902	46	12	1
Total	631	104	46
Grand total			781

Amount in gallons of illicit whisky seized:

	GA.	ALA.	FLA.
July, 1901	1,311	10	0
August, 1901	65	0	0
September, 1901	635	8	0
October, 1901	725	0	0
November, 1901	189	73	0
December, 1901	105	0	286½
January, 1902	64	0	29½
February, 1902	209½	0	15
March, 1902	746	100	0
April, 1902	194	5	2
May, 1902	362	0	33
June, 1902	2,075	14	0
Total	6,680½	210	366
Grand total			7,256½

The amount of unpaid taxes discovered was $69,890.41. Last year the amount discovered was $42,445.40.

Mr. Gates has under him thirteen revenue collectors. These are stationed at different points in Georgia and Alabama, and it is their duty to look after any violation of the internal revenue laws. J. H. Surber, J. W. Martin and R. B. Thomas, of Atlanta; J. R. Ware, of LaGrange; A. J. Spence, of Nelson; H. L. Richardson, of Gainesville; W. E. Crockett, of Marietta; C. L. Vigil, of Macon; Theodore Basch, of Savannah; E. J. Hinton, of Woodbury; George N. King, of Montgomery, Ala.; V. S. Root, of Huntsville, Ala., and W. W. Battle, of Anniston, Ala.

Agent Gates speaks in the highest terms of the work done by the officers this year.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

Notable Opinions Handed Down Yesterday Morning.

LOCAL CASES ARE DECIDED.

Court of Last Resort Brings to a Close a Number of Issues Long Pending.

Decisions Rendered Wednesday, July 23, 1902.

Justice Lewis was prevented by sickness from participating in the adjudication of these cases. Each judgment, unless otherwise stated, is concurred in by all of the five justices present.

787. Southern Railway Company v. Edwards. Petition to remove cause. Before Judge Reagan. Monroe superior court.

Lumpkin, P. J.—Although there may, in a suit against two or more defendants, one of whom is a non-resident, be charges of concurrent negligence against all, yet if there be also a distinct charge of negligence against the non-resident alone, sufficient in end of itself to give rise to a cause of action, the case is one involving a separable controversy between citizens of different states, and therefore removable to the proper United States court.

Judgment reversed.

Dessau, Harris & Harris, for plaintiff in error.

Robert L. Berner, contra.

788. Brunswick Grocery Company v. Lamar et al. Complaint. Before Judge Hansell. Lowndes superior court.

Little, J.—1. The acceptance and receipt of merchandise of a greater value than $50, under an oral contract of sale which is contemplated by paragraph 7 of section 2693 of the Civil Code as relieving the contract from the operation of the statute of frauds, must be such a transfer of the physical possession of the property as places the goods beyond the control of the vendor and within the control of the vendee. Such a transfer is not accomplished where, under a contract of the nature indicated, the goods are left in the possession and control of the vendor pending the taking of an inventory by him to determine the price to be paid for the goods.

2. Allegations in a petition which seeks to recover on such a contract, to the effect that in pursuance of the contract the plaintiff proceeded with the taking of an inventory, and that at the solicitation of the defendants the plaintiff made announcement to various persons of the transfer of the goods in question, and sent to them orders to be filled for defendants in lieu of the plaintiff, are not sufficient to take the case out of the statute on the ground of a part performance of the contract by the plaintiff.

3. It is not permissible for a vendor, in selling gods as the agent of the vendee who has refused to accept them, to buy without authority additional goods for the purpose of inducing a sale of those on hand, and charge the vendee with a loss sustained on the whole.

Judgment affirmed.

W. E. Kay and E. P. S. Denmark, for plaintiff.

W. H. Griffin, for defendants.

789. Stewart Contracting Company v. Jenkins. Practice in supreme court.

Fish, J.—Where a motion for a non-suit was made and overruled and a mistrial followed, a bill of exceptions assigning no error except the refusal to grant a non-suit cannot be entertained by the supreme court. (Railroad Company v. Denson, 83 Ga. 267; Railroad Company v. Tennant, 98 Ga. 156; Jones v. Daniel, 106 Ga. 853.)

Writ of error dismissed. (No further opinion.)

Osborne & Lawrence, for plaintiff in error.

Garrard & Meldrim, contra.

790. Moore et al. v. Carey. Bentley v. Moore et al. Complaint for land. Before Judge Hart. Taliaferro superior court.

Cobb, J.—1. A purchase by an administrator at his own sale of any interest in the property renders the entire sale voidable at the instance of any one interested in the estate, who moves within a reasonable time to set aside the sale.

2. A wife may be a bona fide purchaser without notice from her husband, where he is dealing with the property as his own. It follows that, while a purchase by an administrator at his own sale is voidable at the election of heirs or creditors of the estate, a deed made by him conveying the property to his wife for a valuable consideration vests the title in her, if she had no knowledge of the manner in which he acquired his title.

3. The guardian of a minor who is the distributee of an estate has no authority to consent that the administrator of the estae and others may purchase property of the estate at a given price; and the fact that the administrator does so purchase the property and pays over to the guardian the part of the proceeds which would be due to the minor, does not estop the latter from seeking to set aside the purchase by the administrator at his own sale, when the minor has had no settlement with the guardian and received no part of the proceeds of the sale, so collected by him.

4. A plea claiming a set-off under the act of December 21, 1897, which provides that the value of permanent improvements placed upon the land by one who is in bona fide possession under an adverse title may be set off against the value of the land, if such permanent improvements exceed the value of mesne profits, is fatally defective where the allegations do not set forth with certainty the value of the permanent improvements alleged to have been placed upon the property.

5. When the defendant in a civil case introduces no evidence, he is entitled to the opening and conclusion of the argument.

6. In the trial of an action brought to set aside an administrator's sale, upon the ground that he was a purchaser at his own sale, where it is sought to estop the plaintiff upon the ground that his guardian collected from the administrator the amount due him as his portion of the proceeds of the sale, and paid the same over to him after his arrival at majority, after putting him in full possession of all the facts in reference to the sale, testimony by the guardian, that at the time of the payment by him to his ward it was stipulated by the ward that the payment of the money should have no other effect than to pass the fund into his possession, and he should not be concluded thereby from afterwards electing to restore the money to the administrator and to set aside the sale, was relevant.

Judgment in each case reversed.

Cloud & Jennings and Colley & Sims, for Moore et al.

Samuel H. Sibley, contra.

791. Central of Georgia Railway Company v. McKenney. Damages. Before Judge Candler. Clayton superior court.

Little, J.—1. Evidence of particular acts of the defendant at the time at which it was alleged that the plaintiff sustained injuries by alighting from a train is admissible, when such evidence tends to illustrate the manner in which the plaintiff claimed he was injured, although a statement of these acts is not set out in detail in the petition.

2. Whether the commission of or omission to do porticular acts by a railroad company was negligent as to one who has been injured by the running and operation of a train of cars must, as a general rule, be determined by a jury; and it is error for the judge, on the trial of an action brought to recover damages for such injuries, to charge the jury that the omission to do a certain act was negligence, when not expressly made so by law.

3. The charge complained of in the fourth ground of the amended motion for a new trial was not erroneous for any of the reasons assigned.

Judgment reversed.

R. L. Berner and Hall & Cleveland, for plaintiff in error.

Arnold & Arnold, contra.

792. Bush v. Mattox, administratrix. Action on contract. Before Judge Holden. Elbert superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—1. Where a lessee of convicts, who has a right to sublet them to other persons, employs another to assist him in procuring some one to sublet them, and agrees in writing to pay to the person so employed for his services all excess over $14 per month for each convict sublet, and with the assistance of the intermediary the original lessee makes a contract subletting the convicts at $16 per month, and subsequently, without the knowledge of the intermediary, releases the sublessee and voluntarily reduces the amount from $16 to $14, the intermediary is entitled to recover on his contract.

2. The declaration in the present case, properly construed, constitutes a suit upon the contract for damages for the failure to enforce the sublease as made, and collect the full amount due thereon, and turn over to the plaintiff his share of the proceeds.

Judgment reversed.

W. D. Tutt & Son, for plaintiff.

J. N. Worley, for defendant.

793. Davis, coroner, v. County of Bibb. Appeal. Before Judge Felton. Bibb superior court.

Fish, J.—1. Under the Penal Code, section 1112, a coroner is entitled to demand $10 from the county "for summoning an inquest on a dead body and returning an inquisition," in every case where an inquest is required under the Penal Code, section 1255, and where he has not already received more than $1,500 as his fees during the year in which the inquest is taken.

2. It is not essential that either the summons in an action brought by a coroner in a justice's court for services rendered in holding inquests, or the account attached to such summons, should show under which particular class of the cases provided for in Penal Code, section 1255, such inquests were held; nor that they were not held under the Penal Code, section 1256.

3. A coroner who himself summons a jury to hold an inquest is not entitled to any fee for such service.

Judgment reversed.

M. G. Bayne and R. D. Feagin, for plaintiff.

W. G. Smith and Hall & Wimberly, for defendant.

794. Henry v. Lennox-Haldeman Company. Attachment and garnishment. Before Judge Reid. City court of Atlanta.

Cobb, J.—1. The giving of a bond by a defendant in attachment to dissolve a garnishment does not have the effect of converting the attachment proceedings into a suit authorizing a judgment in personam against the debtor.

2. A motion to dismiss an attachment against a non-resident, which has been executed by service of a summons of garnishment, upon the ground that no property or effects of or debt due the defendant within the jurisdiction of the court has been seized, is premature until the garnishee has filed an answer. And this is true, notwithstanding a bond has been given to dissolve the garnishment.

Judgment reversed.

Kontz & Austin, for plaintiff.

Simmons & Pettigrew, for defendant.

796. Collins, trustee, v. Carr. Motion to set aside judgment. Before Judge Holden. Hancock superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—1. An interlocutory judgment of a trial judge upon an equitable petition, affirmed by this court, is not res judicata unless it was based solely upon a question of law. If based upon law and evidence, it is not binding at the final trial unless the proof is then substantially the same as at the interlocutory hearing.

2. Where, therefore, a father had in his will given all of his property to A in trust for B, the son of the testator, with certain limitations over, and after the probate of the will B filed an equitable petition against the trustee, alleging that B was sui juris and not within any of the classes for whom trusts can be created in this state, and praying that the trust be declared executed, the trustee removed, and the title to the property decreed to be in petitioner; and the trustee answered that the son was of weak mind and of intemperate, wasteful and profligate habits, illustrating by some of the acts of B, and B in an affidavit denied the allegations of the answer, and no other evidence was introduced except the petition, answer, and reply affidavit; and upon these facts the judge decided that the trust was executed, and removed the trustee, the judgment, being based upon a question of fact, was not final between the parties, although affirmed by this court.

3. It not appearing that there ever has been a final trial before the jury, the case is still pending in the court for trial. If upon such trial the son should establish his contentions to the satisfaction of the jury, the trust will be finally set aside and annulled.

4. The foregoing being true, there was no necessity for a motion to set aside the interlocutory judgment; and the court did not err in refusing to set it aside, although the reason given may have been erroneous.

Judgment affirmed.

Hunt & Merritt and James A. Harley, for plaintiff in error.

Robert H. Lewis and William H. Burwell, contra.

797. Savannah and Statesboro Railway Company v. Deal. Damages. Before Judge Evans. Bulloch superior court.

Little, J.—There being no complaint that any error of law was committed, and the evidence as a whole being sufficient to support the verdict as reduced under the order of the court directing that so much of the same as embraced a recovery of attorney's fees be written off, it does not appear that the trial court abused its discretion in overruling the motion for a new trial.

Judgment affirmed. (No further opinion.)

J. A. Brannen and Groover & Johnston, for plaintiff in error.

Moore & Deal, contra.

798. Florida Central and Peninsular Railroad Company v. Berry. Damages. Before Judge Eve. City court of Richmond county.

Cobb, J.—Where an owner of goods delivers them to a railroad company to be shipped to a designated point, and a bill of lading is issued to the owner, in which he is named as both shipper and consignee, and which contains the words, "notify" a third person, it is the duty of the railroad company, unless otherwise instructed by the owner or by some holder of the bill of lading properly indorsed, to transport the goods within a reasonable time to the point of destination mentioned in the bill of lading. The company will not be relieved of liability to the owner for loss occasioned by a failure to comply with this obligation, by showing that the failure to deliver the goods at the point of destination within a reasonable time was due to instructions not to deliver, given by the person whom it was directed in the bill of lading to notify of the arrival of the goods at their destination, who at the time of such instructions was not in possession of the bill of lading nor entitled to its possession. Such person could not acquire any title to the goods or right to control the shipment until he came into possession of the bill of lading properly indorsed by the consignor.

Judgment affirmed.

Joseph B. & Bryan Cumming, for plaintiff in error.

Joseph R. Lamar, contra.

799. Ambos v. Parsons. Before Judge Falligant. Chatham superior court.

Little, J.—The evidence sustained the allegations of the plaintiff's petition, and was sufficient to authorize the verdict which was rendered. The charges complained of were adjusted to the issues raised by the pleadings. The requests to instruct the jury, as set out in the motion for a new trial, were properly refused, and no error requiring the grant of a new trial was committed by the presiding judge.

Judgment afirmed. (No further opinion.)

R. R. Richards, for plaintiff in error.

David C. Barrow and W. W. Osborne, contra.

800. Jones v. Central of Georgia Railway Company. Damages. Before Judge Felton. Bibb superior court.

Fish, J.—Although there was evidence from which the jury could have found that the plaintiff's husband, an employee of the defendant company, for whose homicide the suit was brought, was killed by the running of the defendant's train, yet as it neither affirmatively appeared that he was without negligence, nor that the defendant was negligent, the judge of the superior court did not err in refusing to sanction a petition for certiorari, complaining of the grant of a nonsuit upon the trial of the case in the city court.

Judgment affirmed. (No further opinion.)

John R. Cooper and Marion W. Harris, for plaintiff.

Hall & Wimberly and J. E. Hall, for defendant.

801. Gano v. Green. Before Judge Felton. Houston superior court.

Little, J.—1. A petition in an action to recover damages for a breach of warranty alleged to be contained in a deed is open to special demurrer if it does not set forth, at least in substance, a sufficiency of the contents of such deed to show the covenant of warranty the breach of which is complained of; and where such a demurrer is filed and the defect is not cured by amendment, it is not erroneous to dismiss the petition.

COTTON MARKET OPENED STEADY

Eased Off Slightly, but Soon Rallied the Few Lost Points.

SPECULATION NOT ACTIVE

Closed Unchanged to 7 Points Higher—Trade Small and Nervous in Grain, Closing with Little Change—Stocks at Close Were Irregular.

New York, July 23.—The cotton market opened steady with prices unchanged to 4 points higher and for the balance of the session changed but little. Speculation was at no time active and for the most part was of professional origin. The English market news was conflicting. The crop and weather reports from the belt were reassuring and indicated a liberal if not a record yield, so far as can be judged at this period of the season. Scattered showers were shown on the chart, and the forecast indicated more or less general showers tonight and tomorrow. Following the call prices eased off a trifle, but soon rallied the few points lost on room covering. Liverpool was a moderate buyer of July. Philadelphia appeared to be buying August. Wall street sold October and January through commission houses. The market closed steady with prices net unchanged to 7 points higher, July at one time scoring the full rise of 7 points. Near the close Wall street sold October, believed to be for short account.

Review of New Orleans Market.

New Orleans, July 23.—Spot cotton in good demand but most of the stock is being held by one or two houses. The offerings consist almost entirely of odds and ends. Under these conditions values are nominal. Quotations represent about the going rates, but lists of importance bought of the parties controlling the supply are generally upon special terms, which scarcely serve as a basis upon which to gauge the market. Sales 800 bales, including 750 f. o. b. terms. Quotations unchanged.

Futures opened 1 point higher for August and September and 1 to 3 points lower for the more distant months. The trading was principally in August, September and October. Prices fluctuated over a range of 3 to 5 points but only in a desultory sort of way, managing on the whole to swing fairly close to the initial level. The board at the close showed net losses of 9 points on July, 3 on August and 1 to 2 points on the other months.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, July 23.—The dry goods market has been quiet today for general run of cotton goods, without change in prices of any description in this market. Print cloths steady, but demand quieter. Men's wear woolens for spring opening at last season's prices. Dress goods firm for staples for quick delivery, and no movement of any moment for next spring.

Savannah Gets Bale of New Cotton.

Savannah, July 23.—The first bale of new cotton of the season was received here yesterday and sold this morning at auction in front of the cotton exchange for 11c a pound. The bale will be exported at once to Liverpool. It classed fully middling.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, July 23.—The weather map tells its usual tale of excellent conditions for the crop, but the trade is apathetic and the midsummer dullness is as unvarying as the good crop prospects. The notices for July deliveries were stopped yesterday by the exporters and today July is much steadier, with August showing the better feeling. The small fluctuations show the result of the execution of small orders on a market where both the offerings and the takings are insignificant. While the trade is bearish on the crop outlook, it realizes the possibilities which a scare would bring about, and is conservative, believing that a large yield is necessary.

Southern Exchange Cotton Letter.

New York, July 23.—Today's market in cotton failed to reveal any new sentiment and prices subsequently held firm with very narrow fluctuations. At no time was there any disposition shown to put the market up. The shorts were not so much in evidence either, and this resulted in a sluggish undertone which prevailed during the entire session. There was hardly any benefit derived from the slight advance in Liverpool, owing to the weakness in the spot market there, which declined to 5d shortly after the opening. Sales were 8,000 bales. The cotton belt was generally cloudy today. Showers occurred in Charleston, Galveston, New Orleans, Oklahoma and Savannah districts. The heaviest rains fell around Charleston. Temperature moderate in all sections. Texas was cloudy with 2.34 rain at Abilene; .42 at Taylor; .8 at Fort Worth and 2.50 at Jacksonville, Fla. Forecast for Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina during the next 24 hours indicate partly cloudy tonight and Thursday. The movement of the new crop, which is expected to begin in earnest within the next two weeks, will undoubtedly put more life into the market, and it is understood that if the receipts begin to show the predictions to be true it is safe to assert that the animation which will enliven the trade will be largely experienced in bear circles.

O'Dell & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, July 23.—Cotton futures today opened steady in tone with first prices unchanged to an advance of 4 points. There was a scattered demand from shorts, while selling pressure was conspicuous by its absence. However, at the higher prices there was some selling by longs of recent creation for the moderate profits in sight, though the consequential setback was soon recovered in consequence of a sharp rise in the July option caused by a sharp demand from prominent Liverpool cotton houses. There was also an increased demand for the August delivery, a leading German house being the principal buyer. This buying led to covering in the later months by commission houses, and the support thus accorded exerted a commendable influence on the market in a general way. The trading element was still much at sea as to just what should be expected for the July option during the remaining days of the month. The south was a buyer of September cotton, quite a large number of orders coming from New Orleans. Wall street was a seller of the winter months. The late market was more or less mixed.

Murphy & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, July 23.—In the early cotton market the feeling was mixed, and as a rule leaned strongly to the bull side. Early prices were unchanged to 4 points higher. There was not much in the way of business, and no probability of a broadening market in the near future. It is admitted that we are entering the critical period of the crop and that what by some is regarded as indicating a possible crop of a half million more than the record crop may be cut down far below the record crop by lack of well distributed rains in August or by killing frost in October. August is attracting more attention, and on the whole we find more conservatism in bear quarters. Some regard weather conditions of prime importance and others hesitate to act until we can measure the probable extent of the movement of new cotton, which is now looming up all the way from Texas to Georgia and may soon reach formidable proportions. Only small lots changed hands and prices showed little changes after the opening. Heavy rain at Abilene, Tex., was reported. Several bales of new cotton were reported. Port receipts 3,000, against 2,700 last year.

R. M. Seale & Co.'s General Market Letter.

Atlanta, July 23.—Cotton—Liverpool today was 1-32d lower on spots, though the sales increased to 9,000 bales. Late cables reported the news that spinners were not agreeing to the adoption of short time and intimated that a more confident feeling in the situation was apparent around the prevailing level of values. Trade here was of a varied character, and the majority of the operators were inclined to the selling side notwithstanding a fair demand from outside sources. Little change in price is noted in the final result. The crop outlook and spot situation are kept distinctly in view, but traders are also interesting themselves in the problem of early receipts and the nature of offerings to result therefrom. The disposition is expected steady offerings for prompt shipment with the commencement of new season to the detriment of values, but there are quite a number who believe that any serious depreciation warrants active investment and are encouraged in this view by the depleted state of country stock which makes the trade dependent on the new crop absolutely for supplies. Thus any serious accident to the new crop or an increased demand for cotton will be signalized by a great disappointment amongst present sellers.

Stocks—Heavy buying orders by private wire systems poured into the market, especially in St. Paul, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Illinois Central and Missouri, Kansas and Texas issues. Some of the less active stocks repeated their sensational performances of yesterday. The Tractions were comparatively dull, and moved within narrow limits. Chesapeake and Ohio and Norfolk were quite neglected. The weakness in Brooklyn Rapid Transit was owing to the prospect that the corporation competing with the Brooklyn company for the construction of the East river tunnel would be successful in its bid. Sugar was strong and the United States Steels were heavy under large sales by foreign houses. People's Gas scored another advance for which the most direct explanation was the belief that the company would receive a favorable decision in the pending 75c Gas case.

Wheat—There was a moderate milling and shipping demand in St. Louis. There was some selling early by Armour as well as by commission houses, while pressure of Danube wheat in Liverpool was considered bearish, but not much headway was made on the selling side; in fact, the market was narrow but fairly steady on prospects of more rain. A scalping market is likely, and it begins to look as if September would do to buy on easy spots allowing for sales on moderate advances. Local sentiment is inclined to be bullish.

Corn—Changes were but few in July, while fluctuations in the deferred futures were confined within a narrow range. A prominent house was a notable seller of September and with more rain indicated, receipts will likely be light with the grading poor.

Oats—Receipts continue light. There was some talk of 100 cars coming here from Akron mills, and it is possible that a great many contract orders may appear from other directions. The market was strong all round with buying of September by commission houses, thought to be for Patten.

The London Wool Market.

London, July 23.—At the wool auction sales today 54,031 bales were offered. There was an all-round steady tone and a large supply. Scoured grades were in good demand by France and Germany. New Zealand scoureds were bought by the home trade. Merinos were well supported, American representatives buying fine light greasy stocks and also fine medium crossbreds. Cape of Good Hope and Natal wools were firm. The total withdrawals to date aggregate 15,500 bales. The sales in detail:

New South Wales, 2,400 bales; scoured 5¼d@1s 8½d; greasy 7d@1s 1¼d.
Queensland, 500 bales; scoured 10d@1s 8d; greasy 2¾d@11½d.

THE DAY IN WALL STREET.

New York, July 23.—The stock market again demonstrated its absorptive power today, and made a various but quite convincing show of strength, notwithstanding the appearance of a reactionary tendency in some of the stocks which tempted to realizing by the high price attained, and a few cases of positive weakness. The volume of dealings was again below a million shares, and the bulk of the dealings was congested in a few very active stocks. It was obvious, nevertheless, that the bull campaign was still in force and that large and powerful capitalists were still committed to the long side of the market. Not much attention was paid to the news of the day, which was somewhat meager in its bearing upon values of securities. The speculation shifted from one to another quarter of the market in the usual progress of rotation by which skillful speculative leaders keep the movement of prices equalized from time to time and without regard to news developments. The weekly crop bulletin of the weather bureau was interpreted favorably on the whole. Some harm was reported to the various grain crops by too much rain, but relief from drought was reported for the cotton crop and the condition of the corn crop was considered highly satisfactorily. The outcome of the corn crop is the dominant feature in the speculative situation, and turned the scale of sentiment in favor of the advance. Some disappointment was felt over denials of yesterday's rumors that anthracite mining would be resumed on August 1 and the coalers and eastern railroad generally, with the exception of an early advance in New York Central, were almost stationary. A feature of the day was the marking up of various dormant stocks which have not shared in the recent advance. This tendency extended to Northern Securities on the curb which rose buoyantly to 110. Great Northern preferred advanced 4½, but lost about half of it. These movements were simultaneous with the publication of an abstract of the indenture securing the New Oregon Short Line collateral bonds. This showed that provision is made that the Northern Securities stock deposited as collateral for these bonds shall be allowed to share in any reorganization project, or further union or merger or sale and distribution of the company's assets. The profit taking in Pennsylvania was somewhat aggravated by the action of the New York aldermen in rejecting the Pennsylvania tunnel contract. Brooklyn Transit was decidedly weak owing to the belief that the company's bid for construction of the East river tunnel will fail of acceptance. The expectation that yesterday's engagement of gold for export would be cancelled was only partly realized, and there was a further engagement by another firm of $1,000,000, thus bringing the exports for the week up to $2,750,000. Active profit taking made the closing irregular and the net changes mixed.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $4,565,000.

United States old 4s registered declined ⅛ on the last call.

The total sales of stocks today were 931,700 shares, including Atchison 73,750; do. preferred 23,200; Baltimore and Ohio 17,000; Canadian Pacific 38,600; Chesapeake and Ohio 7,000; Chicago and Alton 6,400; Rock Island 15,500; Denver and Rio Grande preferred 16,400; Colorado Southern 6,600; Great Northern preferred 6,000; Illinois Central 20,900; Manhattan 13,100; Missouri Pacific 19,900; Missouri, Kansas and Texas 18,700; do. preferred 11,100; New York Central 35,900; Norfolk and Western 8,200; Pennsylvania 34,400; Reading 17,600; do. second preferred 12,200; St. Louis Southwestern 52,300; St. Paul 48,500; do. preferred 5,500; Southern Pacific 21,500; Southern Railway 23,200; Texas Pacific 5,100; Union Pacific 74,400; Amalgamated Copper 22,600; Brooklyn 13,100; People's Gas 15,000; Sugar 44,700; United States Steel 9,100.

O'Dell & Co.'s Stock Letter.

New York, July 23.—There was a continuation of bullishness in the stock market today. Special attention was given to the Grangers, and especially St. Paul and Atchison. Sympathetically with the latter the whole list showed an inclination generally to do better. There was good buying in Union Pacific, Missouri, Kansas and Texas preferred, Missouri Pacific and some of the less important roads on the assurance that the crop of the year indicates a yield of a billion bushels in excess of that of last year. Railroad earnings were more favorable. Regarding the monetary situation there was a more optimistic expression on the part of bankers, they generally predicting cheap money throughout the summer. The London market was strong. The better tendency of the Copper stocks and Sugar helped the industrial stocks. The trade on the whole was quite active. At the lower prices, however, the standard stocks were taken up by strong interests, and sentiment was quite naturally sustained up to the last. The late trade was quite active, but there was more or less mixture of orders, and now and then irregularity was evident. The money market failed to reflect good engagements, and there were losses through subtreasury operations.

Murphy & Co.'s Stock Letter.

New York, July 23.—The stock market made some new high records in prices, and was full of activity on the buying side through the morning. The subsequent course of prices suggested that profit taking had to some extent exhausted the buying power. The announcement of further gold engagements had only a temporary effect when it was made, and some of the best prices of the day were recorded when the full amount to go was known. Crop news continued favorable, and there was no sign in the money market of solicitude with regard to gold shipments, present or prospective. In the Granger group they continued to advance somewhat sensationally. St. Paul was active and rose about 2 per cent. The movement in Atchison issues was renewed, the common stock showing a maximum gain of 1⅝ at the close. Southern Pacific advanced smartly in sympathy. Other strong features were Canadian Pacific, Illinois Central, Colorado Southern and some of the specialties. There was another demonstration against the shorts in Sugar, which rose nearly 2 per cent. Copper was somewhat irregular, but lost little ground for the day. The Fuller stocks were dealt in extensively at a radical advance, ascribed to the expectation of early announcement regarding the new combine of capital engaged in real estate and building operations. American Ice issues moved erratically but with a tendency downward. The market closed irregular on the surface, but showing a strong undertone.

Commercial Advertiser's Financial Cable.

New York, July 23.—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: Stocks today were quiet, but brighter in sympathy with Americans, which attracted most attention. There was a few early sales, then prices hung around parity, but soon traders turned in and bid freely. The close was buoyant but on the street ardor cooled. Kansas and Texas, Southern Pacific, New York Central, Atchison, Canadian Pacific and Missouri Pacific were the favorites, but United States Steel was dull.

Rio Tintos sold at 43½ and Anaconda was ¼ up to 5½.

Copper sold at £52¾ the ton.

Discounts for six months are quoted at 2¾ per cent.

The sum of £54,000 gold has gone out to Natal.

CHICAGO MARKET REVIEWED.

Chicago, July 23.—There was a small and nervous trading in grains today. Great local stocks kept the shorts in July very anxious in all grains and manipulative deals were talked of in the absence of vigorous trading. September wheat closed ⅛c higher, September corn ⅛c lower and September oats ¼c higher. Provisions closed 5@7½c higher.

Wheat ruled about steady. The opening was a little higher, on cables and the weather, which was a little showery and was expected to be rainy tomorrow. The government crop report also indicated damage to wheat. Commission houses, however, had stuff for sale, the outsider was keeping out of the market because of fears of manipulation and receipts were very good. The main bullish incentives which brought a late rally after an early dip were the depleted stocks, the very poor grading of the receipts and the local thunder storms. The prospects for export business were somewhat improved, but the cash demand was only fair. There was renewal of the gossip that a leading packer was trying to boost September prices. Under these influences July wheat practically stood still at 77c. September opened unchanged to ⅛c up at 72⅝@72¾c, dipped to 72¼c, rallied to 72⅞c and closed firm ⅛c up at 72⅝c. Local receipts were 202 cars, 16 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 289 cars, making a total for the three points of 491 cars, against 340 last week and 423 a year ago. Primary receipts were 1,098,000 bushels, compared to 1,349,000 bushels last year. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equalled 500,000 bushels.

Corn was slow and but little interest was taken in the market. Good crop reports tended to depress the market early, but uncertainty over the manipulative aspect of July options kept the crowd from selling very much short. Prices were firm in the east and cables were improved. In the end the expectations of a bumper crop, unless some disaster overtakes the corn crop soon, put prices down a trifle. September corn sold between 61⅛@61¼c and 61½@61⅝c, and closed ⅛c down at 61¼@61⅜c. Receipts were 127 cars.

Oats were dull. Good weather and excellent crop prospects induced early lower prices, but there was good commission house buying at times, and late reports predicted rains generally. September sold from 33⅞@34c to 35c and closed ¼c up at 34⅜c. Receipts were only 71 cars.

Provisions reacted a little from yesterday's severe slump, but only a little of the gain held. There was an easy opening on a weak hog market, but the packers supported and shorts covered. September pork closed 5c up at $17.35; September lard 5c higher at $10.57½, and September ribs 7½c up at $10.32½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 145 cars; corn 170 cars; oats 140 cars; hogs 17,000 head.

O'Dell & Co.'s Grain Letter.

Chicago, July 23.—Operations in the grain market today were fairly active, and the movement of prices seemed quite nearer normal than for some time past. There was still evidences of manipulation, but the various July options attracted little attention. Wheat opened steady and immediately developed a strong tendency following a rather bullish weekly government report and a weather map showing hard rains in some sections of the wheat belt. There was but little contract stuff in sight, and there was but a moderate cash demand, while country offerings were fair. Sentiment at the close was mixed with the big people inclined to proceed slowly in the matter of making predictions for the future. The position of the Armour crowd and Patten was a matter of contention between bulls and bears.

Corn continued rather active with a fair movement, though at the higher prices there was considerable long stuff for sale, and the increased offerings were not very well taken. Bears seemed to be without a leader, and under the circumstances their aggressiveness was without special significance.

In oats there was some selling on reports of good crops and favorable weather, though shorts took advantage of the lower prices to reduce their commitments. On the other hand, there were many confident bears who continued to hold on, on the theory that there is plenty of stuff ready to be moved to this country; as more money can be made out of them here than through milling and selling at other points.

Provisions were fairly active and throughout the day more or less uncertainty was noted.

Murphy & Co.'s Grain Letter.

Chicago, July 23.—Wheat has been about steady today with but little change in prices. The opening was a little higher on the weather conditions, cables and a moderately bullish government report, but eased off on general commission house selling, recovering later on a little scattered buying and holding steady around yesterday's last prices, closing unchanged for July and December and ⅛c higher for September. The weather indications were for thunder storms throughout the country.

Corn was somewhat slow, and but little interest taken in the market. The crowd was inclined to sell on good crop news, but uncertainty relative to local conditions prevented anything like a general selling movement, and there was no important change in prices. July was offered rather freely, and on a small trade declined about 1c, recovered later and closed unchanged.

Oats were about the weakest of the grains, and they show but a small decline, except for July, compared with yesterday's close. There was general commission house buying early, and this served to steady the market, but dullness ruled, and there was but little done on either side. The selling was on good weather, but early sellers bought some back on the prospect of general rains.

Provisions—Scattered outside selling caused a lower opening, but after brokers commenced to buy there was a quick rally, all products becoming strong, and advanced easily under good buying. English houses were good purchasers of lard. There was a fair trade all day, and last prices show advances for everything except distant options in lard.

Flour, Grain and Meal.

Atlanta, July 23.—Flour, old wheat, Diamond patent, $5.10; second patent, $4.70; straight, $4.30@4.20; extra fancy, $4.00; fancy $3.85. First patent spring wheat, $4.75. Corn, choice white, 88c; No. 2 white 87c; No. 2 mixed 86c. Oats, white clipped 64c; No. 2 white 62c; No. 2 mixed 60c; No. 3 mixed 56c. Bran $1.15. Brown shorts, $1.25; white shorts, $1.40. Early amber cane seed $2.10; orange $1.85. Victor food $1.40 per 100 lbs; Quaker food $1.40. Choice large bale hay $1.10; No. 1 small $1.00, No. 2 small 90c. Plain corn meal 82c; bolted 75c. Cotton seed meal $1.25 per 100 lbs. Hudnut's grits $2.00.

New York, July 23.—Flour fairly active. Trade in wheat was dull all day, with steadiness the rule. Occasional reactions due to favorable weather news, large receipts, easier Liverpool cables and unloading were followed each time by quick rallies. The liberal seaboard clearances, firm French cables and light offerings impelled much of the demand from shorts. Last prices were unchanged. July 81 1-2; September 77 1-2; December 77 1-2. Corn, spot easy; No 2 71. Options opened steady on small Chicago receipts, reacted under favorable crop news, rallied again on firm cables and the wheat advance, but finally broke, closing 1-2 higher for July and 1-2 lower for other positions. July 71; September 64 3-4; December 51 3-8. Oats, spot firm; No. 2, 63 1-2. Options weaker at first, but subsequently rallied on covering.

St. Louis, July 23.—Flour steady. Wheat lower; No. 2 red cash and elevator 69 1-8; track 69 1-2@70 1-2 new; 73 old; July 69 1-8; September 68 3-8@68 3-4; December 70 5-8; No. 2 hard 75. Corn lower; No. 2 cash 62; track 64 1-2@65; September 52 1-2; December 40 1-4@40 3-8. Oats higher; No. 2 cash 40; track 40 1-2 new; September 28 7-8; No. 2 white 52 old.

Cincinnati, July 23.—Flour quiet. Wheat steady; No. 2 red new 72@73. Corn steady; No. 2 mixed 67. Oats firm; No. 2 mixed 57.

Chicago, July 23.—Cash quotations were as follows: Flour firm. No. 2 spring wheat 76@76 1-2; No. 3 70@76 1-2; No. 2 red 78. No. 2 corn 66; No. 2 yellow 66@66 1-2. No. 2 oats 49; No. 2 white —; No. 3 white 50@56. No. 2 rye 54 1-2.

The Metal Market.

New York, July 23.—Weakness again characterized the different metal markets with but one or two exceptions. The amount of business reported was small and the trade look for further declines before a substantial rally.

Tin in the English market lost 5s, spot closing at £128 and futures at £125 12s 6d. Locally the market was very weak in tone and lower, spot closing at 28.25@28.50.

Copper at London declined 3s 9d with final prices £52 13s 9d for spot and £52 16s 3d for futures. Nearly all grades in the local market were lowered. Standard spot to August was quoted at 11.37½@11.60; lake 11.87½@12; electrolytic 11.75@11.90; casting 11.75@11.85.

Lead abroad was in better position, advancing 2s 6d and closing at £116 5s. The local market showed no change from 4⅛, the undertone being fairly steady.

Spelter was unchanged here at 5⅜ and at London at £19.

Foreign iron prices improved slightly, though there was no change at home. Glasgow closed at 56s 6d and Middlesboro at 51s 1½d. The local market was steady. Warrants were nominal; No. 1 foundry, northern, $23@25; No. 2 foundry, northern, $22@23; No. 1 foundry, southern, $22@23; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $22@23.

St. Louis, July 23.—Lead firm at $4.95. Spelter $5.05.

Provisions.

Candy, common stick, 5c; fancy, 7@10c. Oysters, F. W., $1.85; L. W., $1.25. Fancy head rice, 7c; head rice, 6c.

Coffee and Sugar.

New York, July 23.—The coffee market opened steady with prices unchanged to 5 points lower. At first there was considerable realizing, prompted by the weak cables and heavy movement at primary points, and for the first hour the list hovered around initial figures with trade very active. Near midday there was a sudden change for the better on a general buying movement in which shorts, commission houses and the "clique" figured prominently; prices recovered their early loss and near months advanced steadily until at the close the list was net unchanged to 10 points higher with the tone firm; sales 75,500 bags, including July at 5.35@5.40; August 5.35@5.40; September 5.30@5.40; November 5.20@5.30; December 5.25@5.30; March 5.30@5.40; May 5.40@5.45.

Coffee, spot Rio steady; No. 7 invoice 6½; mild steady; Cordova 8@11½.

Sugar, raw firm; fair refining 2⅞; centrifugal 96-test 3⅜; molasses sugar 2⅝. Refined steady.

New Orleans, July 23.—Sugar strong; open kettle 2¼@3 3-16; open kettle centrifugal 3@3½; centrifugal yellow 3½@4¼; seconds 1⅝@3¼. Molasses dull; centrifugal 5@15.

New Orleans, La., July 23.—(Special.)—There were only 800 present at the game between Atlanta and New Orleans today, owing largely to bad weather. The game was onesided from the start, in consequence of Atlanta being crippled by several men being laid off. Streit, who was in the box until relieved by Baker, injured his ankle in the seventh inning at second base.

Dannehower made his appearance in the box, and was also wild, but proved effective nevertheless, the team pulling him through safely. Westlake was loaned to Atlanta as catcher. It drizzled throughout the game. Score by innings:

Anniston the Winner.

Talladega, Ala., July 23.—(Special.)—Anniston won from Sylacauga here today by a score of 8 to 1 in the last game of the series for the championship of Alabama. Blanchenship knocked a home run for Anniston. Kennedy knocked two three-base hits.

Hogg pitched for Sylacauga and was knocked out of the box. Lynch pitched a great game for Anniston, allowing only three hits. Sylacauga secured her one run on error. Anniston made five earned runs. Batteries—Anniston, Lynch and Leighton; Sylacauga, Hogg, Sorrell and Q. Sorrell. Anniston plays three games with Decatur at Anniston the last of this week. The game today was for a purse of $75 offered by citizens of Talladega.

New Decatur Won.

New Decatur, Ala., July 23.—(Special.)—The Choctaws, of Memphis, suffered defeat again today in one of the best games ever witnessed on the local diamond. The playing of Shortstop Edmondson, of the home team, was the feature of the game. Batteries—New Decatur, Higgins and Grady; Memphis, Wilkinson and Ford. Umpire, McFarland, of Birmingham. Attendance 1,200. Score:

New Dactur 2 2 0 0 0 3 0 1 x—8

FIERCE BATTLE WITH AN EAGLE

Bird Forced a Baltimore Man To Take to Flight.

Baltimore, July 23.—Silus Bennett, of Baltimore county, had a fierce battle with an eagle this morning near Gardenville, and as a result Mr. Bennett now bears several bad lacerations on the hands and face, which were made by the bird's talons.

When Bennett saw the bird on the ground in a field, he thought it would take flight as he approached to where it was, but this was not the case. As soon as he made a pass at with a club the eagle flew at him and for fully ten minutes there was a terrific battle on between the man and the large bird. Bennett finally escaped into a building, leaving the bird conqueror. He returned shortly with a winchester rifle, but the eagle had flown.

Dr. Leyds Is Barred.

London, July 23.—In view of a rumor that Dr. Leyds, who was the European agent of the Transvaal, was returning to South Africa, Mr. Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, made the important announcement today that all those not of African birth who had fought against the British would not be allowed to return to South Africa.

A TEXAS WONDER.

HALL'S GREAT REMEDY.

One small bottle of Hall's Great Discovery cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes gravel, cures diabetes, seminal emissions, weak and lame backs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women, regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist will be sent by mail on receipt of $1. One small bottle is two months' treatment, and will cure any case above mentioned. Dr. E. W. Hall, Sole Manufacturer, P. O. Box 629, St. Louis, Mo. Send for testimonials. Sold by all druggists.

Covington, Ga., July 23, 1898.

This is to certify that I have used Dr. Hall's Great Discovery for rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, and will say that it is far superior to anything I have ever used for the above complaint. Very respectfully,

H. I. HORTON, Ex-Marshal.

SIXTEEN HUNDRED TIMES JEFFRIES SKIPPED ROPE

San Francisco, July 23.—Jeffries indulged in but light exercise today at the Reliance Club, in Oakland. He arose early and skipped the rope 1,600 times, finishing the ordeal with no visible sign of exhaustion. He then spent the lunch hour in comparative quiet with Delaney and his retinue of trainers, and in the afternoon took a row on Lake Merritt. He tipped the beam at 217 pounds tonight, but expects to weigh 218 when he enters the ring on Friday night.

Fitzsimmons took a jog along the drives at Golden Gate park this morning and was rubbed down at the Terminal hotel, after which he partook of a hearty luncheon and sparred with Griffin and Andy Gallagher at the Olympic Club. Experts on the scene declare that there is apparently nothing further to be desired in the condition of the men. The consensus of opinion seems to be, however, that Fitzsimmons' age and the difference in weight are against the chances of the Cornishman, and that Jeffries is the logical winner. The receipts, the club managers state, have almost reached the $20,000 mark.

The betting odds show Jeffries still a favorite at 2 to 1 and 10½ to 4, with much Fitzsimmons money in sight. Sporting men from all over the country are arriving hourly and tomorrow several excursions are expected to reach here.

Jeffries is better natured than he was a week ago. He declares that he feels stronger and better than he has since he has been training. He insists that he is faster than ever.

Fitzsimmons has also tapered off in his work, having passed the point where preliminary exercise will cut any figure. He says that hereafter he will do his boxing in private.

A slight defect in the ring has been found, but it will be remedied before the fight. The heavy timbers which support the framework above the ring were found to be rather too close to the ropes. If there was a struggle in any one of the four corners there was a possibility of either the heads or the hands of the boxers being injured. To avoid this a rope will be cut off 1 foot of each corner, making the ring octagonal instead of square. The posts are padded with great precaution.

Tom Wilson, who came from the east to act as Fitz's sparring partner, but who was shelved in favor of Hank Griffin, will not see the fight.—He received orders to join his regiment at Fort Monroe, Va., by July 29 and will leave then.

LEAGUE MUST SUSTAIN ITS CLAIM BY EVIDENCE

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 23.—In the proceedings for injunction brought by the Memphis Baseball Association against the Southern League to prevent the league from interfering with St. Vrain, the Memphis pitcher, who, it is charged by the league, is under contract in another league, arguments were heard before Chancellor McConnell, of this city, on the amended bill yesterday. The chancellor rendered his decision this morning granting the injunction on the face of the bill. This brings the proceedings to a condition where the league will have to abandon the case or bring it to trial on its merits by the introduction of evidence.

Attorney Ewing, of Memphis, representing the Memphis association, stated today that he regards this as a complete victory for Memphis, and asserted that he possesses sufficient evidence to prove that St. Vrain is not in the attitude of a contract jumper. The decision today gives the Memphis association the right to use St. Vrain in any game in the Southern League without interference. Several members of the Southern League were in the city today and a special meeting will probably be held within a few days to consider the situation. President Nicklin, of the Southern League, stated that he could not say what will be done.

DAN PATCH CUTS RECORD TO 2:03 3-4 AT CLEVELAND

Cleveland, July 23.—The 2:04 pace and the 2:07 trot furnished sensations for the record-breaking crowd that attended the grand circuit races here today. The unbeaten Dan Patch was always a 1 to 5 favorite for the pace, and he won, but had to cut his record to 2:03 3-4 when chased out in the opening heat by Riley B. The performance did not tire the favorite in the least, and he took the deciding heat with ease.

The first heat of the 2:07 trot went to The Monk, who had sold for $50 to $10 on the field. Lord Derby was far back and the judges decided that Spear had made an improper drive. He was taken down and George Saunders put up behind Lord Derby. The drive in the stretch was terrific, and The Monk was nipped at the wire. Lord Derby trotted the last half in 1:00 3-4. A bad break put him out of the going in the deciding heat and the race went to The Monk, Dolly Dillon being unable to force him out. The judges fined Spear $250 and gave the money to the substitued driver. All bets on the race were declared off.

Poindexter, from the Lawson stable, was made favorite in the 2:12 trot, selling for $150 in pools of $275. He never showed and the race was a desperate battle between Hesperus and Waubun, the latter sticking it out. Both horses were long shots in the betting. Direct Hal had the 2:15 pace at his mercy, a break losing him the second heat. He was an odds on favorite in the betting ring. The champion Cresceus was exhibited on the track. Attendance, 11,000. Summaries:

2:12 Trot, Purse $3,000—Waubun won third, fourth and fifth heats and the race; Hesperus second, winning first and second heats; Lady Thisbe third. Best time, 2:09¼.

2:06 Pace, Purse $3,000—Direct Hal won first, third and fourth heats and the race; Elder One second, winning second heat; Pauline G. third. Best time, 2:08½.

2:07 Trot, Purse $1,000—The Monk won first and third heats, and Lord Derby second; Dolly Dillon third. Best time, 2:07¼.

2:04 Pace, Purse $1,500—Dan Patch won two straight heats and race; Riley B. second; Search Light third. Best time, 2:03 3-4.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Philadelphia 5, Detroit 2.

Philadelphia, July 23.—The home team won today's game through opportune hitting and Detroit's errors. Harley is ill and Lepine injured his hand, the Detroit club presenting a patched appearance as a result. Attendance 2,823. Score:

	R	H	E
Detroit	2	4	5
Philadelphia	5	6	4

Batteries—Mercer and Buelow, Plank and Schreck.

Baltimore 7, Chicago 5.

Baltimore, July 23.—Shields pitched the first seven innings of today's game against the Chicago club, without allowing a hit or run. With the last innings of yesterday's game against Detroit, in which he did the same, he performed the feat of pitching eleven straight innings without a hit or run. Chicago gave the locals a scare in the eighth inning today, but could not quite reach. Attendance, 1,510. Score:

Baltimore	7	11	1
Chicago	5	6	4

Batteries—Shields and Robinson, Callahan, Garvin and Sullivan.

Boston 3, St. Louis 2.

Boston, July 23.—Dineen had much the better of the pitchers's battle, but grand fielding by St. Louis prolonged it for thirteen innings, when hits by Collins and Freeman gave the home team the game. Wallace figured in three double plays. Hemphills home run tied the score after Kahoe's error gave the locals the lead. Attendance, Boston 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—3 15 1
St. Louis 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 7 1

Batteries—Dineen and Warner, Donahue and Kahoe.

Washington 6, Cleveland 5.

Washington, July 23.—Washington found Moore's delivery in the fourth. This together with some loose playing by Cleveland enabled the home team to win the most interesting game of the season. Attendance 3,965. Score:

Washington	0 0 0 1 4 1 0 0 x	6	11	2
Cleveland	1 0 0 0 2 1 1 0 0	5	8	3

Batteries—Patten and Clarke; Moore and Bemis.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Boston 3, Philadelphia 0.

Boston, July 23.—Boston shut out Philadelphia today because Willis could not be hit, and the home team scored because Hulswitt, Jennings and Childs contributed errors that cost the visitors three runs. Attendance 600. Score:

Boston	0 0 1 0 0 0 0 2 x	3	6	0
Philadelphia	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	0	3	5

Batteries—Willis and Moran; Iberg and Dooin.

St. Louis 10, Pittsburg 4.

St. Louis, July 23.—St. Louis batted out a victory off Pitchers Doheny and Leever today. The Pittsburgs played poorly in the field. Wagner was benched for disputing a called strike. Attendance 2,500. Score:

St. Louis	0 1 2 2 3 1 1 0 x	10	15	1
Pittsburg	1 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 1	4	8	3

Batteries—Yerkes and O'Neil; Leever, Doheny and Zimmer.

New York 4, Brooklyn 1.

Brooklyn, July 23.—McGraw's New York players began a series of five games with Brooklyn on the latter's grounds today and defeated the locals by 4 to 1. The features of the game were splendid running catches by Bowerman, Jones and Dolan. Score:

New York	0 0 0 0 0 0 1 3 0	4	4	4
Brooklyn	0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0	1	4	2

Batteries—Taylor and Bowerman; Hughes and Farrell. Attendance 6,500.

Jockey Dies of Injuries.

Chicago, July 23.—Jockey Taylor, the steeplechase rider, died here today as the result of injuries received in a jumping race on the opening day at Harlem last Monday. Taylor had the mount on Farrell. The horse fell at the fifth fence, carrying four other horses with him. Taylor was caught under the heap and received the injuries which proved fatal today. Taylor's home was in Louisville.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

The first round of the Athletic Club championship tennis tournament was finished yesterday, and play in the second round will be begun today by the winners of the initial contest.

The matches yesterday were all hard fought, three sets being required in each instance.

Daniels defeated McKenzie, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5. This match was played at 2 o'clock. Daniels was less effected by the sun, hence his victory. Thornton was victorious over Byrd, the sets being 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. Ashe defeated Colquitt, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3.

Daniels v. Grant, Thornton v. Glenn, Thornton v. Scott and Broyles v. Ashe are the games scheduled in the singles today.

The drawing in the doubles was held yesterday, and the following matches will be pulled off today: Alfriend and Brown v. Glenn and Colquitt, Williams and Scott v. Gude and Thornton, Broyles and Grant v. Tichenor and Byrd, Daniels and Peters, bye.

The tournament for the Byrd cup, now held by Hoyt and Egan, in the Atlanta Tennis League, has been postponed till August.

Bob Fitzsimmons is becoming very particular in the matter of the rules which are to govern the contest with Jeffries. Incidentally, Fitz now blames the rules which governed their last fight for his defeat. He no longer tells any dope stories. He told George Siler that he did not propose to let Jeffries use him for a meat hook to hang his 220 pounds on, and he also entered a complaint about Jeff butting him with his shoulders. It is several years since they fought, but Fitz never offered these excuses for his defeat before. Just how a referee could prevent Jeffries from hanging his weight on Fitz whenever there is a clinch is hard to understand. When there are clinches Fitz will have the worst of it. As for the butting with the shoulder, there is this to say: If it is done deliberately, Jeffries is bound to hear from the referee. The amusing feature of Fitz's kicks on the rules is that after he had wasted much time talking about them and they were finally referred to Jeffries, the latter said that he did not care what rules governed, but that anything that would suit Fitz would suit him. All this would indicate that Jeffries will go into the ring a most confident man, while Fitz will be a bit timid. Rumors that Jeffries is overtrained continue to be denied. However, if the recent pictures of him are to be believed, then Jeff is undoubtedly lighter than he has ever been before, and it remains to be seen whether the taking off so much flesh will interfere with him giving a first-rate account of himself.

ORLOFF, 40 TO 1, BEATS FAVORITE

Despised Outsider Gives Talent a Turn at Brighton.

PLATER WINS ATLANTIC EVENT

A. L. Aste's Horse Defeats Blue and Orange by a Head—Himself, 20 to 1, Wins the Third Event — Harlem Results.

New York, July 23.—A. L. Aste's Plater won the Atlantic selling stakes by a head at Brighton Beach today. Blue and Orange was second and Roxboro third. The Atlantic stakes was a five furlong sprint for 2-years-olds and a poor field went to the post with Plater favorite at 1 to 2.

Lux Casta, a 3-year-old filly, carrying 111 pounds, ran the fastest three-quarters of a mile for the east on a circular track. The time was 1:12 flat. Himself at 20 to 1, in the third race, one mile and a quarter, defeated Tom Kenny and Ethics, the favorite. Orloff, from the Keene stable and ridden by the apprentice boy, Waugh, won the last race at 40 to 1. Summary:

FIRST RACE—Handicap, six furlongs: Luxcasta, 111 (Odom), 9 to 5, won; Anak, 112 (Bullman), 40 to 1, second; Saddleccee, 111 (Michaels), 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:12. Belle of Lexington, Delmarch, The Amazon, Demurrer, Irene Lindsey, Cuspidor, Wealth, Lord Pepper, Isia, Monograph and Lord Radnor ran.

TENNESSEE MAY OPPOSE MERGER

Movement To Call Extraordinary Session of Legislature.

MERCHANTS HEAD THE FIGHT

No Consolidation of Southern, Louisville and Nashville and Illinois Central Wanted in Tennessee—Other News of the Railways.

Nashville, Tenn., July 23.—(Special.)—A strong movement has been set on foot for the calling of an extra session of the legislature to consider legislation by which a merger of the Illinois Central, the Louisville and Nashville and the Southern railways, so far as Tennessee is concerned, will be impossible.

A petition is being prepared and will be presented to Governor McMillin asking him to call the general assembly to meet in extraordinary session and take steps to prevent the merger.

It is claimed that existing laws can no more effect such a merging of transportation interests than the provision in the state constitution, and also in the charter of Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, prohibiting a combination—rather, absorption of one line that competes with another within the state—have been effective in separating the Louisville and Nashville and Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis as far as ownership goes.

The idea is that an act can be passed that will cover the case. The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis and the Louisville and Nashville systems in Tennessee are made up of a number of small, but chartered, corporations, which have been absorbed by a centralized financial force so that the charter rights of these various small corporations may be enjoyed by the parent institution.

The charter rights are regarded as most valuable and despite the name of the system to which the smaller corporations now belong the original right granted in the charters are yet in force.

Those who want the special session called believe that if the legislature passes an act prohibiting the wiping out of competition by either a combination or merging of railroads, chartered under the laws of this state, that the first great stumbling block will be placed in the way of Gates, Morgan et al. in their scheme to bottle up the south from a transportation standpoint.

This movement comes from the business men of Nashville, who think that immediate action on the part of the state is imperative and who are willing to back the governor to the extent of calling an extra session of the legislature.

Governor McMillin is out of the city at present, but will give the matter attention upon his return.

Jolly and Taylor Will Land.

It is announced that the Atlantic Coast Line will take care of F. M. Jolly, who has been division passenger agent for the Plant system at Jacksonville, and J. A. Taylor, who has represented the Plant lines at Tampa with the same title.

Mr. Jolly will go to Montgomery, where he will act as traveling passenger agent for the Atlantic Coast Line. W. V. Lifsey, who has been division passenger agent at that point, has resigned, and will leave the service, as was announced in The Constitution yesterday morning. He will in all probability be succeeded by J. W. Kirkland, who has represented the Coast Line at Montgomery for some time.

Mr. Taylor will be made traveling passenger agent at Jacksonville, reporting to F. R. Boylston, formerly Florida passenger agent for the Plant system, who will be made division passenger agent, succeeding F. M. Jolly.

The Separation Continues.

Another illustration of the separation policy of the directors of the Central of Georgia Railway Company and the Ocean Steamship Company is the appointment of G. P. Cornell to act as purchasing agent for the steamship company.

R. L. Baugh, who has been purchasing agent for the Central of Georgia and the Ocean Steamship Company, will continue in the service of the Central, but will hereafter have nothing to do with the affairs of the Ocean Steamship Company.

Mr. Cornell will begin his duties as purchasing agent for the Ocean Steamship Company at once. He is a Macon man. He is well known in Savannah, and has a large number of friends in that city, where he will make his headquarters.

At one time it was the policy of the directors to have the two companies associated as closely as possible. However, since the election of Major J. F. Hanson as president of the steamship company, succeeding Mr. Egan, who remains as president of the Central, an effort is being made to separate their affairs as widely as possible.

A New Santa Fe Line.

The Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railway announces the opening of its Pauls Valley branch for freight and passenger traffic. This branch is known as the Kiowa, Chickasha and Fort Smith railway, and is completed to Lindsay, a distance of 24 miles westward. It is expected that another corporation will build from Lindsay to Chickasha. The new line traverses one of the richest valleys in the Indian Territory, that of the Washita river, which drains the Chickasaw nation from northwest to southeast. Pauls Valley is also to be the southern terminal of a new line now being built by the Santa Fe through eastern Oklahoma, thus making it an important junction point.

Norfolk, Va., July 23.—It is reported that negotiations for the sale of the Old Dominion steamers have been concluded. Indications are that the Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News Company, the Williams syndicate, is the purchaser. It is known that the syndicate mentioned regards the property as a good one. It has been a strong competitor for business of the Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News line.

Baltimore, July 23.—The regular meeting of the new board of directors of the Western Maryland railroad took place in this city today. Two new directors were elected, these being A. H. Calef, of New York, who is the treasurer of the Missouri Pacific, and H. C. Deming, of New York, who will serve in the place of George Gaither, of Maryland, while the latter is in Europe.

THE SUPREME COURT.

by the other grounds of the demurrer in this case, the judgment excepted to was, for the reason indicated above, manifestly correct.

Judgment affirmed. (No further opinion.)
Edwin L. Ryan, for plaintiff.

802. Lee et al. v. Mallard. Equitable petition. Before Judge Evans. Bulloch superior court.

Fish, J.—1. The owner of water in a stream or pond not navigable, or of all the privileges therein, has the exclusive right of fishing in the same, though the land lying under the water may belong to another. Accordingly, a conveyance of land lying upon the natural bank of an unnavigable stream, upon which is located a mill standing on other land of the grantor and across which is a dam causing a pond a portion of which covers a part of the land conveyed, does not pass to the grantee any right to fish in such pond at any point below the then existing high-water mark thereof, when by the terms of the conveyance an exception is made in the grantor's favor as to "all water privileges up to high-water mark, and all other privileges in going to his mill." (Turner v. Selectmen, 61 Conn. 175, s. c. 14 L. R. A. 386; Coke, Litt. 4, b; Wash. Eas. and Serv. *416. See also Jackson v. Halstead, 5 Cowen (N. Y.) 216.)

2. Applying what is laid down above to the undisputed facts of the present case, the court did not err in directing the verdict.

Judgment affirmed. (No further opinion.)
Moore & Deal, for plaintiffs in error.
J. A. Brannen, contra.

803. Hill v. Arnold & Co. Garnishment. Before Judge Proffitt. City court of Elberton.

Cobb, J.—1. When money due a laborer is exempt from seizure by the process of garnishment, it is protected whether in the hands of the employer or of a third person, and cannot be reached by a garnishment until it has passed, either actually or in legal contemplation, through the lands of the laborer.

2. A deposit by a debtor in a bank, to the account of his creditor, of a sum of money due the latter will not constitute payment to the creditor, unless he consents to the deposit. When such a deposit is made, without the creditor's consent, the bank is merely the agent of the debtor to pay the money to the creditor.

3. The judge erred in rendering a judgment finding the fund in dispute subject to the garnishment process.

Judgment reversed.
C. P. Harris, for plaintiff in error.
J. N. Worley, contra.

804. Heard & Sutton v. Kennedy. Complaint. Before Judge Toombs. City court of Washington.

Fish, J.—1. In order for a defendant in a civil action, brought in the city court of Washington, to obtain, as matter of right, a trial by jury, it is essential that he make demand therefor "on or before the call of the docket at the term to which the cause is returnable."

2. Where a promissory note embracing no words of negotiability is payable to several named persons jointly, and one of them, without authority from his copayees so to do, undertakes to assign such note to a third person, the latter acquires no title to the interests of these copayees therein, and, if he collects the note, is liable to any one of them for his proportion of the amount so collected.

Judgment affirmed.
S. H. Hardeman and J. T. Irvin, Jr., for plaintiffs in error.
F. W. Gilbert and William Wynne, contra.

805. Union Casualty and Surety Company v. Winship. Complaint. Before Judge Felton. Bibb superior court.

Little, J.—Whether the receipt admitted in evidence was or was not relevant depended on the conclusions to be drawn from other testimony in the case, and the court, in allowing this paper to go to the jury, did so under proper limitations. It does not, therefore, appear that there was any error in admitting the document. This being so, the special ground of the motion for a new trial is without merit; and so also are the general grounds, there being in the record evidence sufficient to support the verdict.

Judgment affirmed. (No further opinion.)
B. J. Dasher, for plaintiff in error.
T. C. Cochran and J. M. Moore, contra.

806. Booth v. Huff. Before Judge Lumpkin. Fulton superior court.

Cobb, J.—1. A promissory note executed by two persons, one signing at the bottom of the note and the other upon the back thereof, the latter not being the payee, and which is written, "I promise to pay," is a joint and several note, and the person whose name appears upon the back thereof is, according to the facts connected with his undertaking, liable thereon either in the capacity of a coprincipal or in that of a surety.

2. A judgment against one of two joint and several obligors, which has never been satisfied, is no bar to a suit against the other.

Judgment affirmed.
R. B. Blackburn, for plaintiff in error.
J. M. McAfee, contra.
